Commercial Rent Control Plan Blocked

Truman Proposal Shelved by Senate Banking Committee

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP) The Senate banking committee ... ex overboard, for the present at least, President Truman's proposal to impose rent ceilings on stores, office space ... other commercial property.

As the Senate banking committee began 20 days of hearings on Mr. Truman's request for a two-year extension and revision of the Defense Production Act, Chairman Maybank announced the committee finding, reached at a closed session.

There will be no testimony on commercial rents because there has not been sufficient study of the question. Maybank said. Written briefs will be received now and the question will be ... at the end of the hearing "if ... is necessary at all."

Maybank also declared his personal opposition to the beef price ... announced by the Office of Price Stabilization, and declared he was against "tampering with the economy" with the party now in power.

Will Defeat Purpose

The effect of the beef order ... would be to reduce production ... the Defense Production Act, Maybank said in a prepared statement.

WRECKAGE OF A CAR AND A DUMP TRUCK which collided at Route 98 and 529 southeast of Marion at 3:55 p.m. Saturday is shown above. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trafzer of 489 McKinley street in Marion and Marvin Yates of Westerville, O., were injured when Yates' truck plowed into the right side of the Trafzer car. The truck's cargo of limestone block was scattered about 300 feet along the road.

Marion Couple, Truck Driver Hurt in Crash

All Three In City Hospital With Injuries

A Marion couple and a westerville man were injured in a collision of a car and of a truck loaded with five tons of rock at the intersection of State Routes 98 and 529 southeast of Marion at 3:55 p.m. Saturday.

Injured were Charles and Garnett Trafzer of 489 McKinley street in Marion and Marvin Yates, 18, of Westerville.

Mrs. Trafzer was the most seriously injured of the three. She suffered a back injury, lacerations of the face and hands and abrasions and bruises. She is in "fair" condition at City Hospital.

Her husband suffered lacerations of the scalp and face, and Yates sustained a chest injury, a shoulder injury and lacerations of scalp and face. They are both in "fairly good" condition in the hospital.

Path Of Truck

State highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said that apparently the Trafzer car, going west on Route 529, pulled into the

Crawford Co. Brothers Held In Sheep Theft

Arrested Before Farmer Discovers Loss of Ewes

Two confessed sheep rustlers are being held in Crawford County jail today after a three-county search resulted in their capture at Bucyrus at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

They are Donald E. Snavely, 21, of Bucyrus and William Snavely, 29, of Nevada. They are brothers and welders by trade. Charges, probably grand larceny, will be filed against both today, Sheriff Ralph Schreck of Crawford County said.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Ullom of Marion County, Sheriff Ben Stansberry of Wyandot County and Sheriff Ralph Schreck of Crawford County conducted a search all day Saturday and Sunday for the fugitives.

They caught up with them before the farmer who owned the sheep even knew they were missing.

Sheep Valued At $250

The sheep were owned by Charles Hoover and were stolen from a barn lot on his farm three miles southwest of Bucyrus at 2:30 a.m. Saturday. The six ewes were valued at $250.

Sheriffs of all three counties say the Snavely mothers confessed to stealing the sheep at 2:30 a.m. Saturday and taking them to Columbus in a trailer attached to William Snavely's car.

There at 8 a.m. Donald admits he sold the sheep to the Producers'

U.N. Forces Hunt For Elusive Reds

ROK's Cross 38th In Search For Chinese Opposition

TOKYO, May 7—(AP)—South Korean infantrymen pushed the ends of the battle line northward today. Other U.N. forces took up the slack in between while armored patrols probed for withdrawing Reds.

South Koreans pressed across the 38th parallel toward Red-held Inje in the East. Other Republican troops moved the western anchor of the Korea fighting line further northwest of Seoul.

A tank-infantry column rumbled through Chunchon on the East-Central front Monday, and a mile beyond, without meeting opposition.

Other armored groups fanned out all along the center. They found no Reds.

Fired Rockets

Communists sniped on tank expeditions in the West Monday. A U. S. Eighth Army communique said Reds reportedly fired rockets at tanks east of Uijongbu.

American jets left their rockets behind for a mass bomb attack on Red troop, supply and transport centers north of the Communist capital of Pyongyang. Thirty-five Shooting Stars made bomb raids in three waves on railway yards in the Sunchon area.

The Pyongyang radio claimed six U.N. planes were shot down and five airmen captured. The allied command does not comment on Red propaganda claims. The Red broadcast also listed these asserted wartime U.N. losses: 65,000 troops captured, 326,000 casualties, 1,900 planes destroyed or damaged.

Red ground forces made their strongest bid northwest of Seoul.

South Korean troops made a limited advance against North Koreans who had been told there would be no big offensive because "the war is about over." U.N. intelligence officers attributed this statement to a Communist officer.

They did not make clear whether the officer had been taken prisoner or whether the report came from other captured Reds. U.N. spokesmen offered no interpretation of the significance of the statement. Presumably the Red officer meant the war had again reached a stalemate, that neither side could win and therefore neither would open an all-out offensive.

Hint Britain Ready To Cut China Trade

LONDON, May 7—(AP)—A Labor government spokesman hinted today Britain is ready to cut off all exports of strategic materials to Red China if the United Nations so decrees.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the Board of Trade, told the House of Commons Britain bought £2,700,000 ($7,560,000) worth of goods from Red China in the first quarter of this year. He said British exports to Red China in the last 15 months totaled £4,900,000 ($14,720,000).

Would Force Lower Standards

Schooling Decline Seen Should Bond Issue Fail

What will happen if the voters turn down the $2,900,000 bond issue for a new senior high school and other school improvements at the polls tomorrow?

For many years to come more and more Marion children will get less and less educational advantages with an inevitable decline in the scholarship level of the local school system. There can be no other alternative with the continued crowding of more and more children into school buildings already inadequate to serve them, said Lester L. Dickey, school superintendent.

Would Have To Rent Space

To meet the increasingly larger classes of first grade students which total 640 now and will jump to 800 next year and more than 1,000 by 1953 the school system will have to rent space to hold classes wherever it can.

No doubt such makeshift classrooms will be at least partially unsatisfactory because of location, insufficient light, heat, ventilation, fire exits, or similar lacks, but they will have to be endured, along with the added expense on the school operating budget caused by their having to be rented at whatever the rental market demands, Mr. Dickey added.

The continued growth of the high school enrollment which is now 250 students larger than the school is designed to serve will force school officials to rent any available space in the vicinity of Harding High for use for classes unless a new senior high school building is provided by passage of the bond issue at the polls tomorrow.

Eliminate Activities

After these steps have been taken the next move will be to eliminate as many credit-bearing student activities as the state educational department will permit. How far this can go and still keep Marion a fully accredited class A high school is a question school officials have yet to determine.

All of these alternatives will be expensive, inconvenient and unsatisfactory but the school officials will have no choice. They must provide space of whatever kind is available to continue education for Marion children. As the number of children of all ages continues to increase beyond the capacity of the school system to house them, the schools must expand into non-school buildings.

This has already happened at Silver Street school where two classes were housed for a while in a church until the new Silver Street addition was completed.

Cut School Sessions

The next move after all available rental space has been used up would be to cut school sessions to a half day per student.

This would mean that the same amount of classrooms and teachers could be used to teach twice as many students. This is a last ditch measure and has two serious disadvantages. The first of these is each student would get only half as much instruction and half as much chance to get an education. Under this system all homework would be done at home. All supervised study hall periods at the schools would be eliminated so the space they would occupy could be used for additional classrooms.

Character building extra-curricular activities would have to be eliminated entirely because there would be no place for them.

Schools would doubtless have to start some classes at 7 a. m., especially at Harding High where crowding would be worst. Five classes there now start at 8 a. m., 45 minutes to an hour earlier than any other school in the state.

The school day would have to

Bond Issue Holds Top Interest

Election Officials Ready For Primary Tomorrow

Final preparations for tomorrow's primary election were being made today by officials of the Marion County Board of Elections.

Election supplies were distributed to the various polling places by the board. Polls will open at 6:30 a.m. and will close at 6:30 p.m.

The vote on the $2,900,000 Marion School bond issue is expected to hold top citywide interest in the primary. Since there are no contests in the Democratic party. There will be no Democratic ballot. And there are only four contests on the Republican ballot.

Advocates of the school bond issue today urged all voters in the school district to visit the polls and to vote "yes" for the issue. A 60 percent favorable vote is needed for passage.

Many Have But One Ballot

Bond advocates pointed out that Democratic voters and school district voters living outside the city limits had only the bond issue to vote on. Voters in Marion Township, North and South precincts, who live within the school district but outside the city limits, will cast their votes in the commissioners office in the court house.

Election board officials are expecting a light vote throughout the city. A spokesman said he expected the votes to be counted and tabulated by 10:30 tomorrow night.

In conjunction with the final plea being made for the bond issue, a parade of school pupils will be held in downtown Marion tonight. Some 3,000 local students and 14 floats will take part in the parade, set for 7:30 p.m. Floats and the general theme of the parade will plead for support of the bond issue.

The League of Women Voters will again aid housewives and mothers by giving baby sitting service at the various polling places. Children may be left under the supervision of members of the League while mothers cast their ballots. Girl Scout leaders are cooperating with the League in this project.

The four contests on the Republican ballot are all for council nominations.

Five men are seeking three councilman-at-large nominations. They are Tom Clark of 226 Hane avenue, incumbent, Robert G. Haldeman of 568 Windsor street, Ralph W. Williams of 246 Chose street, Don R. Biggert of 247 Bellefontaine avenue, former councilman, and James McFarland of 136 Baker street.

Clarence Sanden of 810 Mt. Vernon avenue, incumbent city councilman from the Sixth Ward, will be opposed for renomination by a newcomer to the Marion political scene, Harold Fralich of 250 Merchant avenue.

Three G.O.P. candidates also are seeking the Second Ward nomination. They are former councilman Herman M. Miller of 266 Silver street, Carl Rorick of 217½ North Main street and Sylvester McClaskey of 561 Avondale avenue.

The remaining race is in the Fourth Ward where three men seek the council nomination. Louis B. Conkle, incumbent councilman, of 313 Marion avenue is opposed by Alphonso Marks of 235 Pearl street and George O.

Diehl Is Write-In Candidate for Council

One Republican candidate who is unopposed will not appear on the ballot in the primary election tomorrow. He is Warren Diehl of 829 Congress street who is a write-in candidate for the Republican nomination for Third Ward Councilman.

Mr. Diehl announced his intention of seeking the nomination after the only other G. O. P. candidate, O. B. Manbeck of Sheridan road, withdrew his petition. To win the nomination, Mr. Diehl must poll 15 percent of the votes cast in the Third Ward.

WINDUP HANDSHAKE. Gen. Douglas MacArthur (right) and Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) chairman of the Senate inquiry into Far East policies are shown as they shook hands late Saturday at Washington after the five-star general wound up three consecutive days of testifying before senators on his foreign affairs views.

Hearing On Subversives Near Windup

Last Session Today; Rep. Robinson May Ask for Extension

COLUMBUS, May 7—(AP)—The subversives investigating committee of the Ohio legislature winds up hearings today and starts work on its report.

Final witnesses for the 1 p. m. (EST) hearing were to be Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill and Donald T. Appell of Washington. Appell is an investigator for the House un-American activities committee there.

The Ohio group organized March 8 and set out to find the best way to blunt the menace of Communists and other subversives in the state. The 12 Senate and House members held open and closed hearings and examined numerous witnesses.

Things went smoothly until last week. Then four witnesses refused to answer questions. Three of them declined to say whether they were or ever had been Communists. The fourth denied being a Communist but declined to name other delegates with her to the world peace congress in Communist Poland last year.

The committee is considering citing the four for contempt of the General Assembly. A recommendation to that effect may be in the committee report to the legislature, due by Thursday.

If the legislature votes citations, a joint session of both Houses would sit as a court in the cases. Penalty for legislative contempt

23 Killed In Worst B-36 Crash

Big Bomber Explodes, Burns in Crackup At Kirtland Air Base

ALBUQUERQUE, May 7—(AP)—The Air Force today launched investigation into a crash of a giant B-36 bomber, so bad that airmen "didn't want to look."

Twenty-three men died and Kirtland Air Force Base looked like a junkyard.

Col. Perry B. Griffith, Kirtland commander, said "We're rounding up witnesses to try to find out what happened. But I don't think there'll be any new developments out of the investigation."

It was the fifth and worst B-36 crash since the Air Force put the 139-ton, six-engined bombers—the world's largest—into operation in August 1946. The toll of 23 dead is just three less than the combined deaths in the other four.

Flames Soar 200 Feet

Col. Griffith said the flaming wreckage "looked like a burning oil field. Flames shot up almost 200 feet in the air."

"I didn't want to look," said Lt. William S. Knipple. "I turned my back." Knipple is one of three members of the 188th Fighter Squadron who watched the crash.

The two survivors were in critical condition at Sandia Special Weapons Base Hospital. Sandia adjoins Kirtland.

Twenty-two men were killed outright. The 23rd died at Sandia

Key Question For Senate Probers

How Ready Is the U. S. If Russia Should Choose War?

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Out of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's exposition on strategy there emerged today this question for the joint Senate committees to ask the Pentagon high command:

How ready is the United States, including the state of her atomic weapon and bomber force preparedness, if Russia chooses war?

The Senate's foreign relations and armed services committees asked MacArthur about all the facts of policy and strategy differences which finally led President Truman to fire him, and the Russian enigma appeared and reappeared many times.

Then, late Saturday, near the close of the general's testimony, the riddle came up again.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn) contended the MacArthur plan—blockading China, putting aircraft over Manchuria and using Chinese Nationalist troops — might bring Russia into the war.

MacArthur's Answer

The general replied:

"As far as the initial state of an attack is concerned, you must understand that our own preparedness, atomic preparedness, is far in excess of that of the potential enemy at the present time.

"Within hours after he launched, we could counterattack. Every disastrous and gloomy prophecy that you have made you can multiply against the enemy."

Will Pentagon strategy-makers, Secretary of Defense Marshall and the Joint Chiefs of Staff agree with that view? The joint committees were ready today to begin hearing their ideas, leading off with Marshall.

MacArthur testified that if he had been permitted to bomb the Chinese Communist forces assembling north of the Yalu River in Manchuria they would not have

Replies In Defense Of U. S. Policy

Defense Chief Goes Before Senators To Answer MacArthur

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall contended to senators today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals would risk "an all-out war with the Soviet Union."

But under questioning from Senator Russell (D-Ga), Marshall said this country is now "discussing" with other nations one of the deposed Far Eastern commander's recommendations, a naval blockade of Red China. He added: "We have not brought the issue up as a formal proposition for them to refuse."

Replying to MacArthur's attacks on the administration's Far Eastern policies, Marshall also said:

▶ The Truman administrations unwavering policy is to deny Nationalist-held Formosa to the Chinese Communists and to oppose seating of the Reds in the United Nations.

▶ A Jan. 12 memorandum of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, which MacArthur contended supported his proposals for fighting the Korean war by direct action against Communist China, was drafted for use if American troops had to withdraw from Korea.

▶ The memorandum was discarded when it became apparent that American troops had turned the tide of battle.

▶ The memorandum contained 16 courses of recommended action, only four of which were quoted by MacArthur in his testimony last week to senators inquiring into his dismissal as Far Eastern commander and policy dispute involved in it.

▶ MacArthur was fired because of "basic differences of judgment" not only with the President, but with the Chiefs of Staff and Marshall himself.

Loss Of Allies

Testifying at a closed session with his "combed" testimony made public later, Marshall said MacArthur's plan would risk an all-out world conflict "even at the expense of losing our Allies and wrecking the coalition of free peoples throughout the world."

MacArthur has proposed intensification of the economic squeeze against Red China, blockade of its coasts, air operations over Manchuria and use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa.

Marshall said MacArthur "would have us, on our own initiative, carry the conflict beyond Korea against the mainland of Communist China, both from the sea and from the air.

"He would have us accept the risk of involvement not only in an extension of the war with Red China, but in an all-out war with the Soviet Union," the Defense Secretary said, adding:

"He (MacArthur) would have us do this even though the effect of such action might expose Western Europe to attack by the millions of Soviet troops poised in middle and eastern Europe."

MacArthur had argued that his proposals ought to be acceptable to other members of the United Nations. But he said that if they were not, the United States should "go it alone."

MacArthur contended, too, that the moves he advocated would not involve any greater risk of Russian entry into war than had the first American troops' intervention in Korea.

He said Russia was hamstrung

Modern Convenience of Gas Ranges Shown Here

Modern, streamlined styling and construction give today's gas ranges an appearance and utility that makes them universally acceptable in smart kitchens but each make and model has special features all its own, according to merchants planning the 1951 Spring Style Show of New Gas Ranges here.

They point out that each homemaker uses one or more of three basic areas in preparing meals—the top of the range, the oven or the broiler. These areas are arranged differently in each model. By studying the variations in these arrangements, each homemaker can find a specific model which suits her own cooking habit and her favorite cooking methods.

The top of the range area, for example, can be varied in several different ways. Burners can be arranged in divided, staggered or clustered style. Each arrangement has special advantages. Some ranges have a griddle built in with the top burners.

The burners in each range vary, but all offer a flexible, easily-controlled amount of heat. Extra convenience features in almost all ranges are "giant burners" and "simmer burners". The "giant burner" is especially good for large utensils and extra-quick cooking.

The "simmer burner" provides the kind of heat housewives use most often in cooking. It keeps the flame just high enough to maintain a simmering temperature. This is important in cooking vegetables and stews, braising meat and in preparing skillet meals or other foods that need to be cooked for a long time.

Modern gas ranges also vary in their oven arrangements. They may be double or single-oven models They preheat more rapidly, use less gas and can maintain lower temperatures than older models because of better insulation and oven burner controls.

Most models have slides which prevent oven racks from tipping and jamming. Automatic oven lighting is available. In double-oven models, the housewife may do slow and quick baking at the same time. Or she can bake and broil at the same time. Oven windows and lights aid in checking the progress of foods during cooking.

Automatic controls on time and temperature can do the entire job of cooking, once the meal is placed in the oven. This cooking may be started and stopped while the housewife is away from home.

Smokeless broiling is a special feature of gas ranges. The broiler pans are designed to drain grease from the heat zone. Any vapors which do occur are burned off by the flame. There are 'high-broiler" styles available. The broiler's at the same level as the oven in those models.

After every dishwashing, when a cloth and warm soapy water is readily available, wipe off the top of your gas range and around the burner sections. By the time the dishes are done, the porcelain has cooled off. If the porcelain is still hot, however, wait for it to cool, otherwise the finish may crack or craze.

---

The most reliable buyer's guide to gas appliances for the home is the blue Seal of Approval of the American Gas Association's Laboratories. Look for it, ask for it, when you're buying a new gas range.

---

Housewives who want leisure, yet must serve tasty meals on time, have learned to plan entire oven meals cooked by clock control. All they do is set the clock which automatically lights the oven burner at the time the meal should start cooking. Then the clock automatically controls turning off the gas when the meal is done. Since the clock can be set hours ahead of time, the cook can walk out of the kitchen and let this mechanical servant do her cooking for her.

---

The removable drip trays underneath the top burners of your gas range are as easily cleaned as a dish. Just wipe with warm soapy water, dry thoroughly on bottom and top before replacing.

---

Simmering is an excellent cooking method used by good cooks to retain food values. Turn the gas low to simmer position to keep soups, stews, vegetables and fruits gently cooking.

---

To clean a gas range in which the oven and broiler are heavily spattered with grease, put a shallow dish filled with ammonia in each compartment, close the doors and leave for a while—as long as 24 hours if you wish. The ammonia fumes help loosen the grease from the porcelain and makes thorough cleaning that much easier.

---

An 1890 cook book advised cooks to drop water on the oven bottom. If the water hissed, the oven was supposed to be hot enough for baking. Today the thermostat on modern automatic gas ranges keeps baking temperatures at exactly the degree the homemaker wants.

---

If you find that cakes burn on the bottom, or are lopsided, or that pies have soggy bottoms, don't blame it on your gas oven. Any of several factors may contribute to baking failures such as overcrowding, poorly-made utensils, or it's quite possible that your gas range is not standing level on your kitchen floor. Study the Buyer's Guide supplied with each gas range to make sure you are using your oven correctly. If there is still some doubt in your mind as to how you can get the best baking results, phone Betty Newton at The Gas Co. office. She will be glad to help you solve your baking problems.

---

All models of gas ranges approved by the American Gas Association's Laboratories are equipped with removable oven bottoms. This is one of the 600-odd requirements for gas ranges bearing the Association's blue Seal of Approval.

---

In 1859, reported The American Gazette, one hundred American families used gas for cooking. Today 27,000,000 American homemakers cook with gas.

Marshall Answers M'Arthur

from a supply standpoint in Asia and could not launch a major offensive there

Marshall, at the outset of his testimony, said he deplored what he called the necessity for testifying in contradiction to "a brother army officer."

Then, in later discussion of MacArthur he said it is "completely understandable and, in fact, at times commendable that a theater commander should become so wholly wrapped up in his own aims and responsibilities that some of the directives received by him from higher authority are not those that he would have written for himself."

"There is nothing new about this sort of thing in our military history. What is new and what has brought about the necessity for General MacArthur's removal, is the wholly unprecedented situation of a local commander publicly expressing his displeasure at and his disagreement with the foreign and military policy of the United States."

Questioned On Point

Several senators questioned MacArthur about the propriety of his action when the deposed general was before them. MacArthur said he was against any "gag" rule. He also said he would have permitted officers under his personal command to communicate directly with members of Congress even if the officers knew their words might be used in public debate.

MacArthur's discharge was blamed in large part on a letter he wrote Rep. Martin (R-Mass), endorsing the latter's view for use of Chinese Nationalist troops against the Chinese Reds.

Marshall told the senators:

"It became apparent that General MacArthur had grown so far out of sympathy with the established policies of the United States that there was doubt as to whether he could any longer be permitted to exercise the authority in making decisions that normal command functions would assign to a theater commander. In this situation there was no other recourse but to relieve him."

MacArthur, when before the committees last week, had brought out the Jan. 12 recommendations to back up his contention that the joint chiefs of staff had fully shared his views on how the Korean war should be fought. He said he could only assume that Marshall or President Truman had rejected the Joint Chiefs.

MacArthur also said the Joint Chiefs in another document had recommended that Formosa fall over to the Chinese Communists or seating Red China in the U.N. would not be discussed in any Korean cease-fire talks.

He said he understood Marshall had objected that the Chiefs in making the document on to the State Department.

Formosa is the big island off China where Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government took refuge when driven from the mainland by the Communists.

Marshall Denial

Marshall denied flatly that he ever intended giving Formosa to the Chinese Reds or approved any course that would permit them to oust the Nationalists [illegible] gain a permanent seat on the U.N. Security Council.

Marshall said that when he became secretary of defense last September "the established policy of the United States was to deny Formosa to Communist China and to oppose the seating of the Communist Chinese in the United Nations."

There has been no deviation from that policy whatsoever," he continued. "At no time have I entertained the opinion that there should be any deviation. These two issues were to be excluded from any armistice terms."

He said, however, when the time comes for negotiation of a settlement of the conflict in Korea, "the questions of Formosa and the seating of the Chinese Communists in the United Nations will undoubtedly be raised by other parties to the discussion."

"The position which the United States has taken in the United Nations in connection with such negotiations is that this government will not oppose discussion of these questions," Marshall said.

No Change in Policy

"In such discussions, however, I am confident that the United States will continue to adhere to its present position, namely, that it will oppose any settlement of the Korean conflict which would reward the aggressor in any manner whatever, and it will oppose the attempt of any nation or regime to shout its way into the United Nations."

33 Senators Present

When the doors were closed, there were 33 senators in the room. On the first day of MacArthur's testimony as many as 64 senators were present.

Before calling Marshall as the leadoff man for the administration, the committees had planned to review behind closed doors the reasons for a deletion in the transcript of MacArthur's testimony last week.

Vice Adm. Arthur C. Davis, who is blue-penciling the transcript for breaches of military security, met with the committee.

Secretary Marshall went before the committee at 9:30.

He allowed himself ten minutes to go from the Pentagon to Capitol Hill leaving his office at 9:20.

He was accompanied by Felix Larkin, general counsel of the Defense Department.

The same welcoming committee that greeted General MacArthur at the airport last Thursday—Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Bridges (R-NH)—was appointed to meet Marshall.

Wait at Entrance

Byrd and Bridges waited at the entrance to the Senate office building to escort the defense secretary to the third floor hearing room.

Marshall reached the Senate office building at exactly 9:30.

His limousine was driven by a WAC chauffeur.

The defense secretary, like MacArthur, a five-star general, was dressed in civilian clothes.

He was preceded by an Army officer carrying a bulky stack of documents.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) declined to disclose the committee's decision on releasing certain data stricken from the record of MacArthur's testimony. He said the decision would appear later in the transcript released to newsmen.

Photographers and newsmen were admitted to the caucus room briefly after Marshall's arrival.

The secretary made the rounds of the senators, shaking hands and exchanging a word, as MacArthur did last week.

A reporter counted 31 senators in the room as the doors were closed. All members of the Senate are being allowed to watch the proceeding, but only the 25 members of the two committees may question witnesses.

Chairman Russell ordered the room cleared at 9:37 and the doors were closed three minutes later.

Plenty of Documents

Armed services committee attaches said a thick file of documents from the Pentagon, brought in by military courier, was being kept under military guard in the committee's regular quarters a floor below the hearing room. The nature of the documents was not disclosed.

A spokesman said the documents would be returned to the Pentagon files each night, and brought back to the Senate office building each morning as long as they are needed.

For the time being, at least, he said they would be held in the committee room where committee members may examine them.

MacArthur wound up late Saturday three days of gruelling questioning by senators inquiring into his ouster by Mr. Truman.

Reduced from its verbiage of 174,000 words of testimony and cross examination, Gen. MacArthur's major stand was this:

A. Red China can be brought to her knees by supply and industrial bombing without great danger of Russian entry into the war.

B. If there is no victory in Korea but only the "bloody stalemate" he says must come from administration plans for a "limited" war there the Soviets may be encouraged to strike anywhere in the world.

Marshall faces hundreds of questions—possibly thousands.

Like MacArthur, he was to testify behind closed doors, with Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the former group presiding.

2 Key Points

Marshall faces almost certain close questioning on two points:

1. MacArthur's assertion that in a war study prepared last Jan. 12 the Joint Chiefs of Staff agreed with the Korean war strategy he has advocated and for which he was fired. He said he assumes the Joint Chiefs were vetoed by Marshall or Mr. Truman.

2. MacArthur's contention that Marshall over-ruled the Joint Chiefs' recommendation that any Korean peace talks should not include (A) admission of the Chinese Reds to the United Nations and (B) the eventual fate of Formosa, now held by the Chinese Nationalists. He said he opposed any discussion of those questions in any possible peace talks.

MacArthur argued that a stalemate in Korea—or the "appeasement" of which he expressed fear—would look to Soviet Russia like a sign of Western weakness.

One probable line of administration counter-attack appeared likely to be that MacArthur, after 14 years in the Pacific, can't see the broader picture.

Comment Shows Split

How divided lawmakers are on the issues MacArthur raised—and which Marshall will begin to answer—was illustrated by their comments on the former Pacific commander's untiring testimony.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said MacArthur left only "one basic issue and that is whether to go forward with the war in Korea and win it."

"The general insisted that was the surest way of preventing world war three," Brewster said.

But Senator Ellender (D-La) said he doubted MacArthur had changed many, if any, senators' views.

"As I see it," Ellender said, "there is very little difference between the views of the general and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"If the general is correct that the Russians would not go to war if his proposals were carried out, he's right. If they should go to war, he's wrong.

"Nobody can know who is right or wrong in this and I'm afraid the whole investigation will leave people up in the air as to who is right and who is wrong."

Senator Carlson (R-Kas) said he thinks "the Joint Chiefs are going to have to say why they are not fighting the all-out, aggressive war in Korea that General MacArthur advocates.

"The general has said it wouldn't take any more men—just the right use of what we have."

Senator Byrd (D-Va) said that "MacArthur convinced me that he has not been insubordinate—he has been an outstanding witness as to clarity and frankness of his views."

The 70-year-old Marshall, war time Army chief of staff, testified behind closed doors as did MacArthur last week. Two Senate committees — armed services and foreign relations — are making a general inquiry into the Far Eastern policy dispute and MacArthur's dismissal.

As with MacArthur, a stenographic report of Marshall's testimony was given to reporters First, it passes through the hands of a military and State Department censor who delete matter they think might be harmful to the national interest if made public.

Basic Differences

After denying any disagreement on the part of the President, himself and joint chiefs, Marshall told the senators:

"There have been, however, and continue to be basic differences of judgment between General MacArthur, on the one hand, and the President, the Secretary of Defense, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on the other hand."

Marshall noted that MacArthur, in his testimony last week, "indicated that, in his understanding, there had been at least two instances in which the Joint Chiefs of Staff had been overruled by the Secretary of Defense or by higher authority."

"One of these instances related to the views expressed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff with respect to the disposition of Formosa and the seating of the Communist Chinese government in the United Nations," the defense secretary said. He continued:

"In his testimony of May 4, General MacArthur suggested that I, as secretary of defense, had overruled the Joint Chiefs of Staff in their opposition to turning Formosa over to Communist China and to seating Communist China in the United Nations."

In his testimony MacArthur said he "assumed" that a recommendation by the Joint Chiefs that these issues be barred from any Korean armistice talks was vetoed by either Marshall or President Truman.

Evacuation Threatened

At the time this memorandum was prepared, we were faced with the very real possibility of having to evacuate our forces from Korea," Marshall told the senators.

"The proposals advanced by the Joint Chiefs of Staff . . . were put forward as tentative courses of action to be pursued if and when this possibility came closer to reality."

He said he sent the memorandum to the National Security Council "for its consideration."

"At about this time, however," the cabinet member continued, "the situation in Korea began to show signs of improvement.

"As the result of this change in the military situation from that which prevailed during the early part of January, it became unnecessary to put into effect all of the courses of action outlined in the Joint Chiefs' memorandum of January 12th.

"None of these proposed courses of action were vetoed or disapproved by me or by any higher authority. Action with respect to most of them was considered inadvisable in view of the radical change in the situation which originally had given rise to them."

Marshall said that 16 courses of action were enumerated in the Joint Chiefs' memorandum, only four of which had been quoted by MacArthur.

"Buying Time"

Earlier the defense secretary was quoted as saying the United States is "buying time" in Korea to prepare against World War III.

A senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Marshall made that statement in stoutly defending the administration's side in the Far Eastern policy dispute with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He said Marshall, testifying behind closed doors to the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees, also:

1. Said it was true, as MacArthur testified, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff drew up recommendations last Jan. 12 proposing moves against Communist China in line with some of the recommendations of MacArthur. But Marshall was quoted as saying, conditions changed later so these proposals were not carried out.

2. Said he supported President Truman's action in dismissing MacArthur from all of his Pacific commands.

3. Declared a theater commander should not attempt to dictate overall global strategy or hat outside his theater.

4. Argued that MacArthur differed so widely with the foreign and military policies of the administration, that this raised a serious question as to his continuation as a theater commander and his ability to carry out these policies.

Marshall was the administration's first witness in reply to MacArthur who hammered away for three days last week at what he called the "policy vacuum" in the Korean war.

Stalemate View

MacArthur argued that, unless retaliatory blows were struck at the Chinese Communists, there could be only a stalemate in Korea with each day adding to the toll of American lives.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), a sharp critic of the administration, came out of the hearing room and told reporters:

"He (Marshall) has not learned anything or forgotten anything since Acheson sent him on his mission which ended in selling out 400,000,000 of our Chinese Allies to the Communists and led to creation of the Korean war."

McCarthy referred to Secretary of State Acheson and to Marshall's trip to China in 1946 as a special representative for President Truman. That was before the Chinese Reds seized control of the mainland of China.

Marshall then had retired as Army chief of staff and later became secretary of state.

Acheson succeeded Marshall as secretary of state.

In Civilian Clothes

Like MacArthur, Marshall is a five-star feneral. But he is retired and was in civilian clothes for his meeting with the senators.

The defense secretary was accompanied to the hearing by an aide, who took in a large stack of documents, and by Felix Larkin, counsel to the Defense Department.

MacArthur also had an adviser with him at his sessions with the senators. This was Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney who is a lawyer.

"WOLF WHISTLER." For three weeks Dorothy Campbell was first amused and then annoyed by a "wolf whistle" that greeted her every time she made a move in the New York office where she is employed as a secretary. She finally called the police. They investigated. The "wolf" turned out to be a mynah bird. Now, Dorothy and the feathered "wolf" are good friends. Here, she lets the bird perch on her knee.

RECRUITER HERE TUESDAY

Cpl. Sally Warren, WAC and WAF Recruiter for this area will be in Marion Tuesday to take applications for either the WAC or the WAF from young women interested. She will be at the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station on South Main street after 12 noon.

Traffic Accidents Claim 20 Ohioans

COLUMBUS, May 7 — (AP) — At least 20 persons lost their lives in Ohio traffic accidents over the week end as spring weather brought a heavy flow of motorists on the state's highways.

In four of the accidents, more than one person was killed. Five persons died in an accident near Mansfield, three near Sunbury, three near Wilmington and two near Lisbon.

been able to advance into Korea in any degree of force or strength. Why wasn't the permission forthcoming?

The formal reason given by Mr. Truman in his April 11 speech to the nation was that to bomb Manchuria and China itself would mean a "very grave risk of starting a general war."

May Be Other Reasons

MacArthur contends the risk of intervention by China or Russia has always been present, from the first day when the United States stepped in to help the Republic of South Korea.

Are there reasons other than those specified by Mr. Truman?

It is quite possible the senators may hear some.

path of the truck, traveling south on Route 98. Both vehicles were believed traveling at a high rate of speed, patrolmen said.

The truck struck the car in about the middle and knocked it about 40 feet to the side of the road. The truck then ran forward and off the road traveling about 100 feet before it came to a stop. The truck bed was torn from the truck and for a short while the road was blocked with the limestone blocks, most of which weighed about 100 pounds. Rocks were scattered for about 300 feet along the highway.

After crawling from the demolished cag of his truck, Yates walked to a nearby farmhouse and called for help. Patrolmen called Mrs. Trafzer's narrow escape "miraculous." They thought it was miraculous that she had escaped without being killed instantly.

Flattens Tires

The car was almost torn in half from the force of the collision. The truck struck just behind where Mrs. Trafzer was sitting. The tires of the car were instantly flattened from the blow and the rims of the wheels dug holes in the road about three inches deep.

Traffic on Route 98 has the right-of-way at the intersection, patrolmen reported. There is no traffic light but there are stop signs on Route 529.

Ambulances from the Boyd and the L. A. Axe Funeral Homes were called to take the injured to the Marion City Hospital.

wage-price controls are throttling inflation, but they can't do the job for long without higher taxes and stricted credit curbs.

Johnston predicted that inflation's "real fire" will begin next fall and the country must be ready to hold it in check or mobilization cost will soar sky-high.

Major Issue

The administration proposal which has stirred the greatest controversy would authorize a year-at-a-time freeze of farm parity in an effort to check food prices.

Farm state lawmakers protested vigorously, saying there is no justification for any such action.

Gen. Wedemeyer Asks Retirement

WASHINGTON, May 7—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, whose long-suppressed secret report warned of Russian-aided Communist aggression in Korea nearly three years before it came, has asked for retirement from the U. S. Army.

POST 162 TO MEET

First nomination of officers for the new year will be held when Bird - McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Legion Dugout. Members of the nominating committee are Clifford Chapman, chairman, Donald Bowen and James Miley.

Sheep Theft

Livestock Cooperative yards for $94.01.

Stockyards officials became suspicious as Saturday is not the usual sheep-selling day at the yard and no farmer would bring sheep on that day.

The yard notified the state highway patrol headquarters in Columbus telling them Donald Snavely had given his address as "Route 2, Marion." This proved to be a fictitious address.

Patrol Radios Alarm

The state patrol put out a radio alarm for the pair and it was picked up by the Marion Police Department where Captain Justin Cornely notified Deputy Sheriff Elmer Ullom, Crawford County sheriff's department also received the radio alarm.

Deputy Ullom and Sheriff Schreck enlisted the aid of Sheriff Stansberry of Wyandot County and the three officers began a three-day search in which clues were checked at Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, Nevada, McCutcheonville, Brandywine, Oceola and Mexico and back to Bucyrus, where the pair were found and arrested yesterday at Donald's home.

Charles Hoover, owner of the sheep, was notified to count his flock. This was the first he knew the sheep had been stolen. Hoover went to Columbus today to recover his sheep at the stockyards.

Glad It's Over, MacArthur Says

NEW YORK, May 7—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur—"glad the (Senate) hearings are over"—plans to remain in New York City this week.

The general rested in his Waldorf-Astoria Hotel suite yesterday after three full days of testimony in Washington before joint sessions of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

When he returned here from Washington Saturday night, MacArthur told newsmen he was glad his testimony was completed.

"Now I'm home for good," he said. "I'm through with the hearing. I feel fine now that it's over."

While MacArthur remained in his suite yesterday, Mrs. MacArthur and their 13-year-old son, Arthur, attended services in St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, across the street from the Waldorf-Astoria.

BUILD SHELTER HOUSE

GALION—A new shelter house is going up in the west picnic section of Heise park which will be dedicated to the memory of the late W. A. Frank, veteran city official, who died in 1948. The new shelter house is being erected with privately donated funds. When completed, possibly by Decoration Day, it will be 24 by 48 feet, with open sides. It is located a short distance south of the new baseball diamond. The late Mr. Frank began service with the city in 1910 as an inspector. Later he served as service and safety director, and was appointed street foreman in 1934, a position held at the time of his death.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Adv

Prearrangement Is Commonly Used . . .

In every home there are overshoes, umbrellas and many such kinds of prearrangement to meet the needs we know are certain to come. That is only common sense.

Our suggestion is that it is just as sensible to use the same judgment about funeral service. It is equally certain to be needed, and much more difficult to meet when no arrangements have been made.

Come in and frankly discuss prearrangement, both as to the service you would require and the cost. Many others are doing it.

MacArthur

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — ONE OF the surest tests of one's ... is ... to improvise.

That is as true of the soldier as it is of the poet.

... on that test ... his views are right or wrong ... General of the Army Douglas MacArthur has made one of the superb counterattacks of military history.

HAL BOYLE

His appearances before the U. S. Senate ... been classic performances in practically every way. No other witness appearing before a legislative or ... body ... time has ... under public interest.

... like ... to ... to have ... from ... best ... to fulfill the purpose of war—which is the art of inflicting one's will upon the enemy.

MAKING WHAT MAY ... the last ... career ... on his men. The knowledge of a life-time has rolled from him as spontaneously as if his whole career had been spent on a rostrum. Time after time, in reply to questions, he has tossed out eloquent verbal essays on the nature of nations and the ways of warfare that are worth separate publication in themselves.

His campaign has been a masterpiece of steady and remorseless attack in behalf of his Korean war program, whether under praise from Senate friends or under fire from Senate critics of his policies. He has remained completely cool; some of the heaviest siege guns of the Senate have been unable to ruffle him.

IN THREE DAYS his testimony has equalled the word output a good professional turns out in a good year.

Whether his last campaign turns out to be a tour de force or a victory—whether his advice is followed or rejected—it has shown the tremendous range of a first-class mind delivering the harvest of a long and tremendous career.

It has been a demonstration worth the admiration of those other two masters of spoken English in our generation—Winston Churchill and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. And it will be long remembered.

Mac Arthur has had none of these advantages.

The battlefield is relatively strange to him—a Senate hearing. He probably hasn't been before a Senate committee since he was Army chief-of-staff. His weapons are not guns and tanks but words, the oldest weapons in the world. He fights not with hundreds of thousands of soldiers under him, but with only one at his side—Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, his adviser.

Despite these handicaps the 71-year-old warrior has waged one of the best extemporaneous battles in the long story of spoken warfare. Far from being the faded old soldier he was, he has shown tremendous powers of pure physical endurance. He has worn down younger members of the Senate.

THE USE OF WORDS ... not ... to Mac Arthur, who was graduated ... with the highest scholastic ... record ever made at West Point ... his communiques in the last world war drew some criticism for being over-ornate.

But under the stress of interrogation his style has simplified and improved. He talks better than he writes. He has marshalled his words as well as he ever did his men. The knowledge of a lifetime has rolled from him as spontaneously as if his whole career had been spent on a rostrum. Time after time, in reply to questions, he has tossed out eloquent verbal essays on the nature of nations and the ways of warfare that are worth separate publication in themselves.

His campaign has been a masterpiece of steady and remorseless attack in behalf of his Korean war program, whether under praise from Senate friends or under fire from Senate critics of his policies. # Home Is Home

By Inez Robb

ENROUTE TO N. Y. — AND now as I set a final farewell to California let me express my feelings by quoting the immortal words of the Oklahoma ... Joplin ... on the side of his beaten car:

"I'm going back to Oklahoma and the ... geraniums."

I'm certain ... have been as hard and ... the beginning as I was. But a man can't ... just so much of anybody, including sunshine and geraniums.

Inez Robb

I think I ... what prompted the Okie ... accept ... to the geraniums. He was homesick. Home is home, and Oklahoma and New York City may not be such-here ... In the eyes of Californians nothing but ... and osages in the former and ... and sharpers in the latter.

A poor man for himself, too, he says native sun has scared me that the No. 1 prime target for the enemy A-bomb attack ... Cook's country (California, you should ask?).

EVERYTHING IN California is so much bigger, better and more important that an enemy with anything but rocks in his head will never waste bombs on New York City when he can get to the West Coast. Anyway, that's what the boosters say.

So I am returning to my home and my feller feeling we have nothing to worry about from Aubums as long as the geraniums hold out.

"Over all" California is a marvelous place and I am glad it took the rest of us into the Union. Where else can a thirsty customer lay the dust with a "banana cow," an alleged cocktail made with equal parts of ripe banana and aged rum blended in an electric mixer?

Don't ask me what it tastes like. You think I got rocks in my head?

I regard myself as one of the great American experts on the subject of Idaho and Idaho baked potatoes. And yet I had to come to California to learn a new gimmick in the serving of Idaho bakers. Out thataway, hot bakers come to the table accompanied not by a half pound of butter each but by a dish of sour cream and chopped chives. Very tasty, too.

AND WHERE WOULD the nation be today, may I ask, without the California ranch house? Still stuck in that old New England salt box, probably.

What has happened to the California ranch house in the last 10 years shouldn't happen to Lana Turner. What with glamour and picture windows, the new and improved California ranch house doesn't even beat a coincidental resemblance to the California ranch house I was born in, on a real, working California ranch.

Grandpa's house was a respectable, middle - aged two - story white farm house with the requisite number of porches. Since that day the California ranch house has lost one story and spread in so many directions and over so much territory that the new models are now sold with built-in electric scooters.

When I was in Los Angeles, I was shown the newest model ranch house, owned in its entirety by Edgar Bergen, if I remember rightfully. The point is that the house is so rambling that people in the kitchen wing can't see the library except on a clear day, or seldom.

AND THIS San Fernando valley was a surprise, too. I honestly thought it was farm country. Where mo'om picture people really raise cattle and what-not. But San Fernando valley is just another big suburban real estate development with miles and miles of row houses, all alike. There isn't room enough to swing a cat, much less a cow, in the valley.

At night the valley is a solid mess of neons. If there are any cowboys, they are employed solely in throwing a neon-lighted bull.

All in all, I liked California and Californians just fine, even the one from Iowa. But you know how it is: it's a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't live there if you gave me all the six-foot geraniums in the place.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

A LOT OF crime was looked over by the Kefauver Committee but a lot more was overlooked. Almost casually the Senators' report reveals in sparse sentences, that hundreds of thousands of dollars were stolen from unions. It discloses that "the labor" outfits were used as fronts ... the mob to infiltrate ... industries. It also divulges that gambling reached such a multi-million dollar "take" in one huge plant that some workers actually ... cranes, lowered from near the ceiling, to pick up horse bets, numbers and cash for those who were the mob contacts.

Victor Riesel

Buried in the record are stories going back to 1932 when the lethal Shelton gang tried to muscle in on the Boilermakers' Union. Then ... gent by naame of Oliver Alden Moore, union business ... and president of the ... St. Louis A.F.L. Central Trades Council, was ... by 27 machine gun slugs fired from a passing car as he stood in front of the union headquarters. Moore had refused to resign although the mob was happy to give him $30,000 as going away gift.

For months, the good-natured Kefauver depended on his staff—as most Senate probers must. Yet they told him virtually nothing of crime on the labor front although there was instances of phony sales' unions and companies hiring, and later being used by the gangs from which they first sought protection at a price. It can be authentically reported that the staff's decision was that there were more important and far more colorful ... stories to be made in the little time left them.

SO PERHAPS we have fault for not reaching into ... area where the working man finds terror, as well as his daily bread rests squarely on the Senate — and those who felt that the labor-industrial relations ... should ... research.

Now, however, we find a new staff and a new chairman and ... quiet middle-aged man who gives his profession as a garment manufacturer playing new and dramatic roles in this nation's private life.

Early this week the new crime committee chairman, Sen. O'Conor, received a phone call from a man who has made himself synonymous with the phrase "Labor Lawyer" — Louis Waldman. The attorney was speaking for his client, one Irving Sherman, the cloak manufacturer — the wispy, much-sought friend and professional liaison man for crime commune chief Frankie Costello, some unions, Ambassador O'Dwyer and 80 to 150 top politicos. Who but Sherman knows how many? For who but Sherman is described by J. Edgar Hoover as "one of the most prominent criminals in the underworld."

WALDMAN TOLD the new crime committee that Sherman would talk, willingly, as a friendly witness—any place, any time. Senator O'Conor arranged for Waldman to accept a subpena. And the tales Sherman can tell, of 20 years stretching back over the beginnings of streamlined crimes can electrify even this shock-proofed nation.

His attorney, Louis Waldman, counselor too for Joe Ryan and the controversial waterfront unions, is still smarting under the Kefauver committee's concentration on the longshoremen. He feels strongly that since the wharf workers were grilled on rackets dating back 20 years, why not the liquor industry, the garment areas, the laundry field, and the motion picture sector, in all of which the crime combines went "respectable" after sweating many a manufacturer and union official.

Suddenly these men, client and counselor, give the new probers a concentration point, just as Sen. O'Conor is devising his strategy. Suddenly, there is a man who reputedly knows everything—and is willing to talk. Suddenly, the whole story of the biggest labor rackets, as well as political partnerships in crime, is available. The racket probe is really alive again.

And in the records of the outgoing committee chairman, some of which have not been published but are available in the pages taken during private hearings, there are many "leads" now being considered by O'Conor's new staff.

THERE'S THE STORY of the theft of hundreds of thousands of dollars, stolen from waterfront unions once controlled by the mob.

That was back in 1942. A man named Bill O'Dwyer, who was destined not to go far in his country's diplomatic service, was then probing waterfront extortion rackets. He took his time about calling for the unions' books. Oddly enough the unions' officers just didn't think those books were really needed. So they were taken out to an empty lot and burned. And the probe was dropped.

There are leads in the Ford River Rouge plant, where they used those cranes to pick up bets, and C.I.O. Auto Workers Union chief there has sent word he's ready to cooperate and not oppose disciplinary action against union members who are "actual agents" of the mob. There are hundreds of such leads on the multi-billion dollar rackets.

And one little man, by name of Irving Sherman, friend of the mighty, suddenly turns up to give the new probe new direction.

SHERMAN GIVES UP. sought for two months for questioning by the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee. Irving Sherman, garment manufacturer, enters the Federal Courthouse in New York. Sherman appeared there for a "conference" with U. S. attorneys in response to a grand jury subpoena. He is now the subject of a Federal Bureau of Investigation ...

How Soon To Get Up After Operation

Of late years, great emphasis has been placed on what is known as early ambulation for surgical patients. Nowadays, patients who have had operations are allowed to lie in any position they prefer; they are encouraged to breathe deeply and to move their arms and legs as soon as they are conscious. In many cases they are urged to get out of bed very promptly, often within a day or so after surgery.

This does not mean, however, that such patients should be rushed out of the hospital as soon as they are able to get about. Where this mistaken course is followed, complications may develop which will send the patient back to the hospital for a longer stay than would have been necessary in the first place.

It is also possible to overdo the business of getting patients out of bed early following an operation. The prime need for the first few days is rest of the affected parts, so that tissues will be given a chance to heal and bleeding to stop. Thus, though rest in bed is essential during this period, the patient may have deep breathing and leg exercises to keep up the circulation, thus preventing the development of blood clots which are often such a severe complication of surgery.

Another possible complication is atelectasis or collapse of the lungs. This is best warded off by deep breathing.

After about four days, when the wound is safe against strain, the patient may be allowed to be up. Usually he is carried to a chair and is permitted to sit up for a while, or he may, if he feels like it, take the few steps to the chair.

The natural desire of the patient is nearly always the best guide as to when he should walk. He should certainly not be urged to get up until he feels like doing so.

It has been estimated that having patients get up early following operation would increase, from 10 to 20 percent, the capacity of a hospital, would reduce greatly the call on the nurses' time, and would be most beneficial to the patient. However, speeding up the patient's discharge from the hospital is not advisable since complications could then develop which would only make it necessary for the patient to return to the hospital for a long stay.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. C. W.: My feet always seem cold. Does this mean there is something wrong?

Answer: Coldness of the feet may be due to some circulatory disturbance. In general, it is not a matter for any concern unless the symtoms are excessive. In such cases, an examination should be made by the physician to determine the extent of the circulatory disorder.

Lausche on Federal Civil Defense Council

COLUMBUS, May 7—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche is one of 12 persons appointed by President Truman to be a member of the civil defense advisory council, it was announced in Washington yesterday.

The council will consult periodically with the federal civil defense administration on general policy. Members will receive not more than $50 a day when they are carrying out civil defense work.

4 Navy Men Lost In Lake Salvage Try

EVANSTON, Ill., May 7—(AP)—A Navy salvage operation ended in tragedy yesterday as four Navy men were lost in rough Lake Michigan waters. Eight crewmen were rescued.

Hundreds of spectators on the shore, several hundred yards away, saw the salvage boat ship water and sink in ten feet of water in about 30 seconds.

The diving party, using a shallow-draft converted LCVP, had been searching for the body of Lt. Laverne F. Nabours, 30, Lake Zurich, Ill., Navy flier whose two-engined jet fighter crashed into the lake Friday.

HOUSING NOTES—the National Production Authority has ordered a 15 percent increase in the manufacture of aluminum windows and frames to avert a threatened shortage in essential defense and civilian construction. Producers had been cut 50 percent below the manufacturing rate during the first six months of last year. If NPA changed the ratio to 75 percent to continue plant operations in May and June.

The brick industry has launched a campaign to persuade the government to build more military barracks with brick products instead of lumber.

Officials of the Structural Clay Products Institute point out brick buildings are fire safe, attractive, weather resistant and sanitary. Moreover, they say a brick structure will save money in the long run in maintenance costs.

Inflation helped to push construction spending in April to a new record high for the month.

The government says two billion, 353 millions dollars was spent in April to start public and private building projects. Residential construction accounted for 911 million dollars, seven percent above March and three percent over the April 1950 figure.

Miss Hawley Elected By King's Daughters

Miss De Emma Hawley was re-elected leader of In-As-Much Circle of King's Daughters when they met for their final meeting Thursday night with Mrs W J Markwith of East Center street. Elected to serve with her for the coming year were Mrs Walter Dursey, assistant leader, Mrs J F. Neidhart, treasurer, and Mrs John Muntsinger, recording secretary.

The meeting opened with devotions and prayer by Miss Hawley, followed by roll call responded by 28 members repeating Bible verses.

A district meeting to be held at Bucyrus on May 19 was announced, and a regular luncheon meeting of King's Daughters in Bucyrus on May 8.

Mrs. B R Prichard, program chairman, presented Mrs. J E Oliphant who gave devotions and Mrs. Marion Clark who reviewed "Smile Please" by Mildred Spurrier Topp.

The picnic committee Mrs Paul Conrad and Mrs R M Ewing reported a picnic will be held June 7 at the home of Mrs Conrad of Kensington place.

Mrs Clark, chairman of the relief committee, reported on the work done the past year, and Miss Clara Trefz and Mrs J E Dennison reported for the social committee. Mrs J H Harmon, magazine chairman also gave her report.

The nominating committee was composed of Mrs Cloyce Taylor and her group.

Upon conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs Markwith, assisted by Mrs J. H Ralston.

Patrol Auxiliary Class Ends Tonight

A class of 29 members of the two American Legion posts in Marion will attend its final training session for the state highway patrol auxiliary tonight at 8 at the American Legion Dugout.

Patrolman Doyle DeWalt of the Marion station of the highway patrol will conduct the final class on "Bill of Rights and Laws of Arrest." Final plans also will be made for a graduation ceremony to be held in the near future.

The class was started by the patrol Jan 1. The patrol sponsors the classes which are open to members of the American Legion in an effort to obtain qualified men to augment its personnel in cases of emergency.

State Street P.-T.A. Backs Bond Issue

When the State Street Junior High School P.-T A. met Tuesday night in the music room at the school, members voted unanimous approval of the new school bond issue. Speaking in behalf of the bond issue was Karl Bechtle.

In the business meeting, in charge of Clyde Tumbleson, president, plans were made for a ninth grade party, honoring students of the ninth grade who will leave the school to enter Harding High School next year. The party will be held May 24. Plans for a paper and scrap drive May 16 were announced.

The unit also discussed plans for holding a M.O.M.S. Fall Festival and for purchasing stage curtains and other equipment in the school.

Officers of the unit serving with Mr. Tumbleson, and committee chairman, include Mrs. Basil Morgan, first vice president, W. E. Orcutt, second vice president, Mrs Harold Robinson, secretary, Mrs. Walter Slob, treasurer, Mrs. Leslie Brothers, Council representative; Mrs. John Kantzer, alternate, Mrs Floyd Van Meter, program chairman, Mrs. Clifford George, publicity, Mrs. Robert Wilson, membership, Mrs. Alfred Lamb, finance, Mrs Clarence Pryor, hospitality, Harold Jamison, music and radio, Mrs. Edwin Obenour, health and safety, Mrs. Clifford Irey, Welfare, Mrs. Raymond Seas, social, Miss Evelyn Hipsher, devotional, Mrs. Carl White, magazine, and Ralph O. Young, historian.

A program, entitled "Musical Varieties," was presented by the ninth grade choir of the school, in charge of Miss Evelyn Hipsher. She also gave the history of the choir.

They presented a group of numbers, sacred, novelty and Negro spirituals, and also a group of American folk dances, in costume. Whistling solos were by Lowell Coons.

Pupils taking part were Ruth Butcher, Leslie Irey, David Harning, Nancy Holliday, Doris Southward, John McElroy, Annabelle Abrams, Paul Foster, Norma Call, Marlene Davis, Jane Tumbleson, Sondra Scheitler, Charlene De Witt, Patricia Butler, Shirley Sherman, Vena Christman, Sara Adams, Lenore Farhney, Barbara Sayre, Joyce Shumate, Rosemary Sidenstricker, Rosemarie Clifton, Geneva Everly, Ina George, Sharon Gilbert, Shelba Denny, Bob Tuddle, John Harbin, Strothers Bracy, Dick Blair and Barbara Pitchford.

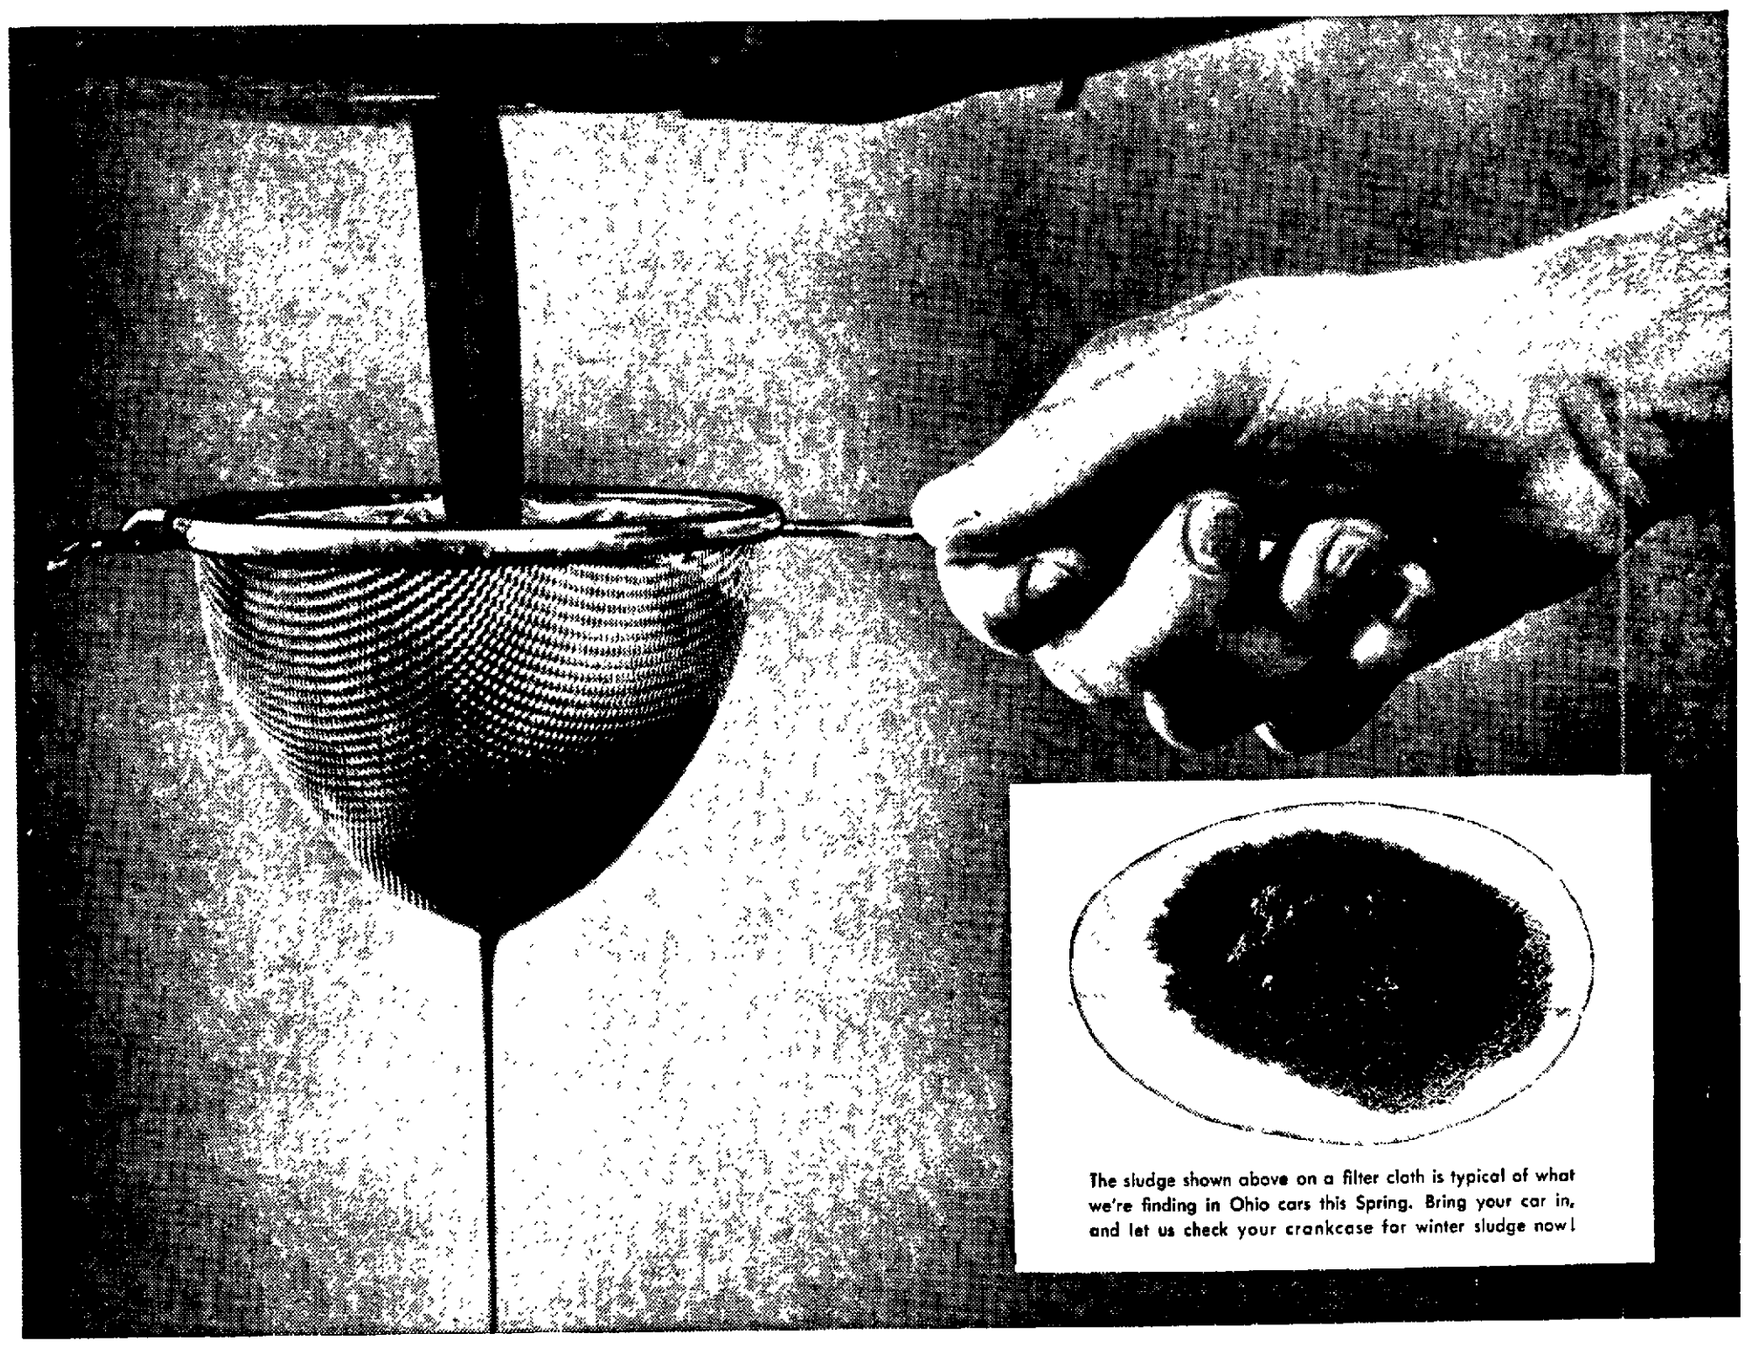
Winter sludge may still threaten the life of your car!



The sludge shown above on a filter cloth is typical of what we're finding in Ohio cars this Spring. Bring your car in, and let us check your crankcase for winter sludge now!

Come in now... let us put your car back in shape!

This spring, after Ohio's worst winter, we're finding more sludge in car engines than ever before. Slower driving, shorter trips, cold starts and excessive choking have built up sludge rapidly. The sludge shown on a filter cloth above is typical of the average engine. As every car manufacturer agrees, it can cause extensive damage if not removed. Sohio urges every motorist to come in for an oil drain now and refill with a fresh, heat-resisting, anti-sludge Sohio motor oil.

HERE, TOO! Your chassis, too, has been spattered with slush, mud, salt and snow for months and needs attention. At Sohio, you can be sure every vital part of it gets skilled lubrication. Winter-beaten gear lubricants, too, need draining and replacement.

"You can count on Sohio... first in making your car last"

U. S. Troops In Iceland

REYKJAVIK Iceland, May 7—(AP)—A contingent of American troops arrived by air today at Keflavik airport, 30 miles from this capital, for the announced purpose of aiding Iceland's defense under the North Atlantic pact. The number of troops was not announced.

In Washington, defense officials told reporters the initial detachment consisted of about 200 men under the command of Brig Gen. Edward John McGaw of Philadelphia.

RETURNING "BATAAN"

NEW YORK, May 7—(AP)—Gen Douglas MacArthur said today he had ordered the return of his four-engined airplane, "Bataan," to the Defense Department because he feels it is "no longer appropriate" for him to keep it. He made the announcement through Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, his spokesman

Truman To Speak On Foreign Policy Tonight

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—President Truman discussed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's testimony with congressional leaders today in preparation for a major foreign policy speech tonight.

Speaker Rayburn told reporters that the MacArthur case came up during Mr. Truman's regular Monday morning conference with his Capitol Hill spokesmen.

The President speaks at 9.30 p.m. (E.S.T.) at a federal civil defense dinner at the Hotel Statler. It will be his first formal speech since the general he removed from command appeared before Senate committees inquiring into foreign policy and the Korean war.

John Rowan, who owned "My Old Kentucky Home," was a famous jurist, congressman and senator from Kentucky. His home at Bardstown, Ky., made famous by Stephen Foster's song, is named "Federal Hill."

U. S. Court Hears Suit For Slayer 11 Hrs. From Chair

JACKSON, Miss., May 7—(AP)—A federal court suit to save Willie McGee was set for a hearing today just 11 hours before the condemned Negro rapist was scheduled to be executed.

Gov. Fielding Wright meanwhile held a clemency plea under advisement. There was no indication when his decision would be announced.

Barring another reprieve—he has had three—McGee will die in Mississippi's portable electric chair at Laurel at 12:01 a. m., C.S.T., tomorrow.

Quake Toll Hits 200 in El Salvadore

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, May 7—(AP)—At least 200 persons were reported killed in an earthquake yesterday in the cities of Jucuapa and Chinameca.

Jucuapa is about 90 miles and Chinameca about 92 miles east of this capital. Jucuapa has a population of about 12,000 and Chinameca of about 17,000.

Russia To Compete In 1952 Olympics

VIENNA, May 7—(AP)—Russia was admitted into the Olympic group and will compete in the 1952 games The Associated Press learned from a reliable source today.

An official announcement of the action taken by the international Olympic committee was expected at a formal press conference today. The acceptance came at the first session of the three day annual meeting of the I.O.C.

It was understood that the executive commission of the I.O.C. which heard a Russian delegation ask for membership last weekend suggested to the full committee that the Russians were familiar with the Olympic rules and had agreed to abide by them.

Communist Leads For President of Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 7—(AP)—An exiled leader of Bolivia's working classes held a commanding lead in his country's tense presidential race today but his big upset so far had not clinched the presidency for him.

In preliminary returns Victor Paz Estenssoro, who campaigned from Buenos Aires, with Communist support, appeared well along to a sweeping plurality in the six-man race, but it appeared doubtful he could get the majority necessary to elect him outright.

Pulitzer Prize Winners To Be Revealed Today

NEW YORK, May 7—(AP)—Winners of the annual Pulitzer prizes were to be announced today at Columbia University.

The Pulitzer prizes are awarded in journalism and letters.

The awards were established by Joseph Pulitzer, the late publisher, in a bequest to Columbia. Prizes are awarded on recommendation of the advisory board of Columbia's school of journalism.

The board is not obliged to award prizes in all fields, and may make special citations.

Galion

A banquet at Hotel Talbott Friday brought to a close the study year of the Current News Club, Galion's oldest literary club.

Mrs. B. K. Corman turned her gavel over to the new president, Mrs. S. A. Rhoades. The program chairman, Mrs. Eric Brooke, presented Mrs. J. E. Casey who gave a talk about the Oberamergau Passion players and then showed slides to illustrate. Miss Barbara Casey, a daughter of Mrs. Casey, was the projectionist. Mrs. W. W. Koppe, soprano, appeared for a group of three numbers with piano accompaniment by Mrs. W. E. Lott.

Mrs. Clyde Kelly was the devotional leader when the Ladies' Guild of the Church of Christ met recently at the parsonage with Mrs. Turner Holt as hostess. The program was presented by Mrs. M. P. Kightlinger and Rev. Holt and business was conducted by Mrs. William Gifford.

A Mother's Day letter written by a son in the Korean war was read at the May meeting of the Frauenverein which was held at Peace Lutheran Church Thursday. The mother is a member of the society. Readings were given by Miss Emma Biebighauser and Mrs. Robert Shumaker, and a memorial service was held for the late Mrs. George Jacobs. The meeting was conducted by Rev. Philip E. Aueu.

* * *

The senior farewell held by the Girl Reserves at Senior High School Thursday was attended by mothers of the members. Officers and cabinet members for the coming year were installed at the meeting. Those taking part on a special program were: Eileen Barrett, Donna Thatcher, Nancy Tracht and Carolyn Revert, Elaine Hottenroth, Mary Casto, Jane Gallentine, Ray Seif, Dale McHenry, Tom Livingston, Dick Host.

Upper Sandusky

Honoring the May birthday of L. E. Snyder, local merchant, employes of Snyder's Department Store held a surprise dinner at the Bow and Arrow for Mr. and Mrs. Snyder with the store personel, Tuesday evening.

All officers were present for the meeting of Warpole Chapter No. 366, Order of the Eastern Star, which was held Thursday. The business meeting was presided over by the worthy matron and worthy patron, Helen and Dale Kimmel. The oldest mother present, Mrs. Anna Trowbridge and the young mother, Mrs. Olive Swerlein, were honored with each being presented a corsage. Mrs. Esther Lust and Mrs. Wanda Schoenberger sang a duet. They were accompanied by Mrs. Helen Beaston.

AID SOCIETY MEETS

Members of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Lee street Presbyterian Church were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blanche Moore of 400 Lee street. Scripture reading by Mrs. Doris Tumbleson opened the meeting, and a story, "Women of China Today," was read by Mrs. Gertrude Castle. The society voted a donation of $50 to the church fund and it was announced that a new coffee urn for the church had been purchased by the society. The Lord's Prayer by the group closed the meeting. Plans were made for a family picnic to be held June 25 at Lincoln Park. During the social hour, mystery awards went to Mrs. Blanche Moore and Mrs. Betty Strickland. At the next meeting, June 6, at the church, a potluck dinner at noon will be served.

CHURCH CIRCLE MEETS

Circle eight of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Becky Yannitell of Waples street. Mrs. Valeria Ropke presided for the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ruth Ruthford. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Ruth Krecke and for the program Mrs. Laverna Pratt read an article, "Presbyterians Coming to America". The next meeting will be a picnic in June.

VOTERS OF WALDO SCHOOL DISTRICT

What makes a good community?

KIDS DO, for one thing. Everybody wants to see them grow into useful patriotic citizens, able to hold their own in the world. This means giving them good schools and churches, safe places to play, adequate medical care . . . It means seeing that there'll be jobs when they're ready for them, that opportunity doesn't die.

But fond parents—or just people, for that matter—don't make a good community. People working together do.

A modern school makes the community a better place for your children to grow up in and where business thrives.

How about you? Are you making or just taking your community? Vote for the school bond issue Tuesday, May 8th at the Waldo Township House . . .

★ We are in a state of emergency.
★ We must build our military strength—and at the same time we must keep our economy strong for the long pull.
★ Inflation bleeds both!

Controls can help "hold the line" —but they can't cure Inflation!

● Just because controls have been ordered by the Government, does not mean we can now afford to sit back and think there's nothing we individually need to do to check inflation. Far from it!

To win the battle against Inflation, every one of us must take a personal part. And let's not forget that if this battle is lost, every one of us will suffer.

What can each one of us do to lick Inflation?

1. Each of us can help our Government make controls effective by holding the line on prices. Controls may not be pleasant,—"good medicine" often has a bitter taste. Controls are helpful as a "stopgap"—until production has a chance to catch up with demand.

2. Production is one basic weapon against inflation. When we produce enough goods to meet the demand, prices should stop going up. So everything we personally can do to help "get the job out" helps keep Inflation from striking at us.

3. Save all we can, every way we can. By saving, we take money out of competition for scarce goods. We make money available for more production, and build a reserve for our future needs to be spent in more normal times.

4. Buy only for basic and immediate needs. We must prevent bidding against each other for goods which are in short supply.

5. Support "pay-as-you-go" taxation. Tough as it is to pay more taxes, they help us keep the economy of the nation strong which is vital for the long pull.

6. If we want to save on taxes as well as help check Inflation, let's let our representatives in government (Federal, State and local) know that—while we support strong defense—we also support their efforts to cut all spending that can possibly be cut. The time to speak up is right now!

The Sixth Column Enemy—Inflation—must be checked at all costs. The country's military and economic strength—and the value of your savings—demand it.

This message is one of a series on Inflation brought to you by the life insurance companies and their agents in the interest not only of keeping America strong but also in protecting the purchasing power of the dollars of the 83 million policyholders in this country today.

Bowlers From 17 Cities In Lions Tourney

Bowlers from 17 Ohio cities participated in the Lions Club District 14-E Bowling Tournament held at the Palace Recreation alleys Sunday afternoon. Approximately 170 bowlers were present with a total of 250 Lions and their wives attending the entertainment. Twenty-four teams were represented. Seven were from Marion.

Game results are now being tabulated by Roger Stoll and his committee who announced the winning of the Sunbury team in the team event with a score of 2907.

Third place prize teams from Mansfield, Central Ohio Bowling Proprietors Association, Mt. Gilead, Green Springs, Delaware, Seymour, Tiffin, Mansfield, Norwalk, Lorain, Sandusky, Fostoria, Elyria and Galion.

4-H Club News

The Morral Mixmasters 4-H Club met Tuesday night at the school with ten members present. Patty Baker was elected as news reporter for the remainder of the year. During the meeting a discussion of projects was held. A wiener roast will be held May 14. The group will then attend a movie. Refreshments were served by Edythe Hughes and Patty Baker.

A MARION SOLDIER IS AMONG THIS GROUP OF KOREA combat veterans feted after landing at Seattle, Wash., Saturday. He is Sgt. 1/c Douglas Elkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Elkins of 674 Sugar street, who is expected home late this week. These combat veterans were paraded through Seattle shortly after landing from a transport. The shipload, containing 1,502 soldiers, was the first to arrive home under the Army's new rotation plan.

94th Birthday Marked By Addison Bain

The 94th birthday anniversary of Addison Bain was observed when a few close relatives and friends visited him Sunday at his home at 182 Wallace street. Because of his failing health the annual birthday party was not held. The day was spent quietly.

Mr. Bain whose birthday was May 2, received many cards, telegrams, greetings and gifts.

The celebrant is the son of John Bain, a native of Scotland and Ellen Scribner Bain, who was of English descent. His father served in the Ohio State Senate and was chaplain during the governorship of William McKinley. A staunch Republican, when the legislature closed, Democrats and Republicans joined to present him with a large gold-edged Bible.

ENTERTAINS ASSOCIATION

A potluck dinner at noon preceded a business meeting and social hour when the Woman's Benefit Association met Wednesday with Mrs. Daisy Kohler of 254 South Grand avenue. Mrs. Kohler, president, presided for the meeting. At the next meeting, June 7, with Mrs. Vella Hogan of 341 Olney avenue, annual memorial services will be conducted.

Korea Vets Speeding Home for Furloughs

SEATTLE, May 7—(AP)—Some 1,500 army officers and enlisted men returning from Korea on rotation were streaking across the nation by train, plane or bus today for 30-day furloughs at their homes in the 48 states, Puerto Rico and Canada.

The majority of the much-decorated veterans, many of whom had spent more than 9 months on the warfront in Korea, were rushed through the required processing at Fort Lawton here within 24 hours of their arrival early Saturday. Others left yesterday and 109 men from Puerto Rico were the only veterans still being processed last night. They were to leave for Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Trinity Baptist Church Woman's Society Meets

First meeting of the new church year for the Trinity Baptist Woman's Missionary Society was held Thursday night. Tea tables were decorated with spring flowers. Plans were made to send the president, Mrs. E. C. Kimball, as delegate to the Ohio Baptist Women's House Party at Granville in June.

Theme for the program, in charge of Mrs. Kimball, was "Where the Spirit of the Lord Is, There Is Freedom." She presented the "A B C s of the Woman's Society," with new officers and committee chairmen taking part. Included were Mrs. J. B. Holloway, Mrs. H. M. Brewer, Mrs. Harwood Taylor, Miss Florence Durfee, Mrs. Frank Brabson, Mrs. Marvin Weston, Mrs. Elmer Myers, Mrs. Harry Merchant, Mrs. Harry Woodall, Mrs. Marvin Beers, and Mrs. D. W. Hinamon.

Mrs. Harold Smith sang, and a piano duet was by Mrs. Grace Albert and Mrs. Woodall. Devotions were by Mrs. A. G. Spring on "Freedom To Serve." Each circle leader lighted a candle on a "cross of service." Taking part were Mrs. Fred Hinamon, Mrs. John Cottrell, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Epley, Mrs. Kenneth Albert, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Cora Gossler and Miss Juha Ann Gorman.

Refreshments were served by members of the executive board from a table decorated with spring flowers and candles. Circle meetings announced for next Wednesday and Thursday were Judson Circle, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. D. W. Hinamon hostess at her home on East Church street; and Ann Hasseltine Circle, at the church, Inner, at Trinity House, Ruth Mather at church, Seagrave at home of Mrs. W. G. Brown on East Center street, all Thursday afternoon; and Lydia Circle, at church, Thursday night.

Orange Pie Brightens Meal

HERE'S a hint to the new bride or bride-about-to-be: there's nothing quite like a mouth-watering pie to bring back harmony to the household after you've been out on a shopping splurge or burnt the roast. Few could resist the appeal of this orange chiffon pie

With juicy, extra-sweet oranges now on the market, now is the season to enjoy them at their best Whether you use the recipe for a pie or for individual tarts, you'd find it attuned to everyone's taste

ORANGE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups Florida orange juice
2 3 cup sugar
1 T flour
¼ t salt
1 T grated orange rind
3 T lime juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped, or
2 3 cup thoroughly chilled evaporated milk, whipped
1 nine-inch chocolate crumb crust or 9 baked tart shells

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold orange juice in saucepan Blend sugar, flour and salt, add to softened gelatin; mix thoroughly. Place over medium heat stir constantly until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened Remove from heat add orange rind and remaining ½ cup orange juice and lime juice Chill until the mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white Fold into whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk Turn into pie crust or tart shells and chill until firm. If desired garnish with whipped cream, orange sections and shaved chocolate. Yields 1 nine-inch pie

Chocolate Crumb Crust: Combine 1¼ cups finely crushed chocolate cookies, ¼ cup softened butter or margarine, ¼ cup sugar Chill Press evenly around bottom and sides of pie plate.

Nevada Firemen Get Fire Training

NEVADA—The 22 members of the Nevada Fire Department are beginning an organized course of instruction to improve local fire protection. Through the efforts of the city council a fire service training instructor has been obtained to give thirty hours of instruction to the firemen.

The instructor, Richard Oiewiler, will conduct weekly sessions of two hours each to the fire department. Certificates will be awarded to the men who successfully complete the course of instruction.

The services of the instructor are made available by the Trade and Industrial Education service of the Division of Vocational Education, State Department of Education as a part of the public service training program. The training offered to improve fire protection and fire prevention in communities throughout the state. The value of the training is recognized and recommended by the Division of State Fire Marshall, the Ohio Inspection Bureau and the Ohio Fire Service Training Advisory Committee.

The training will consist of instruction in fire fighting skills and technical information. Some of the typical units covered are: community fire defense, fire pumps and care of the apparatus, fire fighting appliances, use of hose and rope, gases and gas masks and fire fighting tactics. Written instruction materials are made available to the instructor and to each fire fighter by the Division of Vocational Education within the State Department of Education. Tht Vocational Education is co-operating in the program.

It's the only new-type engine in any "new car"!

Chrysler FirePower — Finest engine ever put in an automobile

180 HORSEPOWER

The new Chrysler Hemispherical Combustion Chamber, heart of the finest car engine built today. In this dome-topped area, you see the only ideal combustion chamber . . . the only way to develop full combustion, full compression, full work and value from every drop of fuel!

With so many engines claiming newness . . . how can we call FirePower the only new type engine today? The answer's very simple, and one you ought to know before you invest in a car.

The fact is that engine "improvements" happen every year . . . but a basically new motor car engine is a very rare thing. And FirePower is the most basic new development since Chrysler introduced high-compression in 1924!

To get to the heart of the matter, just go to the heart of the engine . . . the combustion chamber where the spark fires gas into power.

Here Chrysler brings you something no car has had till now . . . a Hemispherical combustion chamber . . . the only perfect and ideal combustion chamber in any passenger car. Here the same amount of gasoline delivers you far more energy than it could in any other car.

What this means to the man at FirePower's wheel is impossible to tell you till you take that wheel yourself. FirePower's 180 horsepower can outperform any other engine on the road, even on regular grade gas.

Remember, too, that Chrysler now offers the wondrous road-ease of new Oriflow shock absorbers with twice the shock-absorbing power of any others . . . and the exclusive safety and delight of Hydraguide *power steering which takes four-fifths of the work out of steering! You can learn for yourself how Chrysler has changed your motoring life by seeing your Chrysler dealer now!

*HYDRAGUIDE regular on Crown Imperials, optional at extra cost on all New Yorker and Imperial models.

LET'S STOP ARGUING ABOUT—

HUMAN RIGHTS VS. PROPERTY RIGHTS

— WHEN THERE IS NO LAW OF GOD, NATURE OR MAN THAT GIVES PROPERTY ITSELF ANY RIGHTS.

PEOPLE, NOT PROPERTY, HAVE RIGHTS, SO—

ALL RIGHTS ARE HUMAN RIGHTS!

AND THE HUMAN RIGHT TO PRIVATE PROPERTY IS BASED ON THE LAWS OF GOD, EXPRESSED IN THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Thou shalt not covet... anything that is thy neighbor's. Thou shalt not steal.

THE LAWS OF GOD CAN BE BROKEN, VIOLATED OR IGNORED BUT— NEVER DESTROYED!

THE MAIN PURPOSE OF OUR EARLY AMERICAN GOVERNMENT WAS TO PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS... INCLUDING THE RIGHT TO PRIVATE PROPERTY.

BUT— GOVERNMENT ITSELF CAN VIOLATE THE HUMAN RIGHT WHICH IT WAS ORIGINALLY DESIGNED TO PROTECT.

REMEMBER EVERY GOVERNMENT IN HISTORY HAS, SOONER OR LATER, VIOLATED THIS HUMAN RIGHT WHEN IT ATTEMPTED TO PROVIDE FOR PEOPLE BY TAKING MORE OF THEIR PRIVATE PROPERTY

AND WITHOUT EXCEPTION THE RESULT HAS ALWAYS BEEN—

LOSS OF INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM
LOWER SCALE OF LIVING

Copyright 1950, F. W. Overesch

ABRAHAM LINCOLN SAID —

PROPERTY is the fruit of labor: property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. . . . Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence. . . . I take it that it is best for all to leave each man free to acquire property as fast as he can. Some will get wealthy. I don't believe in a law to prevent a man from getting rich: it would do more harm than good.

Election

Lockwood of 230 West Columbia street.

Waldo School Vote

Voters in the Waldo School district will vote at a special election on a $160,000 school bond issue and a four-mill operating levy. The school bond, if approved, would be used to remodel the school building and to construct a combination gymnasium-auditorium. The operating levy would run for two years and would cover the cost of school operating expenses.

Richland Township voters living in the Waldo School district will cast their ballots at the Waldo Township Hall, the Marion County Board of Elections has reported.

While a light vote is expected, members of the board of elections would make no prediction on the number of votes to be cast. This election is the first in several years in which no contest is slated in one party.

The weatherman, however, has promised to cooperate in getting voters to the polls. The weather prediction in Marion tomorrow calls for fair and warmer.

Bond Issue

be lengthened from a 4 p. m. closing time to 5 p. m. or 6 p. m.

Building Program

If the school bond issue is passed at the polls tomorrow the $2,900,000 it will provide will be added to $1,100,000 the school board now has from the 1946 "Works for Progress" bond issue.

Three million dollars of this will be used for a new senior high school. The remainder will be used to add a cafeteria and change Harding into a junior high school, build a new lunch room at Edison, convert Vernon into an elementary school, expand facilities at State Street Junior High School and improve facilities all over the school system.

Subversives

is a fine of from $100 to $5,000.

Recommendations Due

The committee is expected to recommend laws to combat subversives and to ask more time to continue its investigations. Democratic members of the committee may lodge a minority report against extension.

Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion) is committee chairman and Sidney Isaacs of Cincinnati is counsel. Isaacs is a former FBI agent and Robinson served in counter-intelligence.

Others members are: Senators Joseph Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga), C. E. Powell (R-Clark), Leo Blackburn (R-Scioto), James Headley (R-Hamilton), Charles Carney (D-Mahoning) and Representatives Samuel L. Devine (R-Franklin), Louis J. Schneider, Jr (R-Hamilton), Robert W. Reider (D-Ottawa) and John V. Corrigan (D-Cuyahoga). Ex-officio members are Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin) and House speaker Gordon Renner (R-Hamilton).

A sub-committee of the House education committee is ready to report on a plan to give schools more money than called for in the state budget. The proposal is for an extra $18,000,000 to $19,000,000 in the next two years.

The House - approved budget calls for $15,000,000 more than schools got in the current biennium. The Senate is expected to boost the figure. The Ohio Education Association wants an extra $36,000,000 on a scale down from an earlier $37,500,000 request.

Would Hike Levy

Reports said the new plan calls for minimum starting pay for teachers of $2,000 to $2,400 a year, depending on training. Local boards would say how much their increases would be annually in the next five years. A jump in the mandated levy to qualify for additional aid under the school foundation program also is in prospect. It would be from 4.5 mills to 6 mills.

The House tonight votes on a bill requiring Ohio State University trustees to try for television broadcasts of their regular football games. They would authorize TV contracts if opponent schools approved. The Western Conference has banned TV grid broadcasts.

A measure to permit padlocking of gambling places as common nuisances is due for a vote in the House about Wednesday. It's the third part of a tough anti-gambling program of the Republican-controlled legislature.

The Senate judiciary committee is expected to recommend passage this week of a bill to make it a felony to own, display or transport slot machines in Ohio. The House has approved the measure.

A third measure that permits the governor to start removal action against sheriffs, prosecutors and mayors has cleared both houses and awaits Gov. Frank J. Lausche's signature.

OHIO OIL INCOME UP

FINDLAY, O., May 7—(AP)—The Ohio Oil Co. of Findlay, O., and subsidiary company reports net sales and other income totaled $49,990,747 for the three months ended March 31. They were $43,839,966 for the same period in 1950. The companies reported net income for that period in 1951 as $9,015,064, compared to $8,360,862 one year before.

Israel Ignoring U.N. Cease-Fire

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, May 7—(AP)—Israel refuses to heed a United Nations-sponsored cease fire order in the "battle of the Jordan" as long as Syrian forces remain in the demilitarized area northwest of the Sea of Galilee.

Israel's stand was reiterated in a letter last night by Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett to Col. Bennett De Ridder, acting chief of staff of the U.N. observers here. Sharett stressed however, Israel's "readiness to cooperate in restoration of peace."

The northern front was quiet last night for the first time since the bloody fighting started last Wednesday along the river Jordan.

The calm came after a battle during which, a military spokesman said, Israeli troops drove Syrian army invaders back in fierce hand-to-hand fighting yesterday morning.

(In Damascus a Syrian army communique yesterday said five Israeli planes bombed Arab houses in the demilitarized zone and attacked a Syrian army outpost east of the Jordan river).

A gas turbine-electric locomotive tested by the Union Pacific Railroad, operated 70,000 miles in 1950, produced nearly 270,000,000 gross ton miles, and used approximately 1,114,000 gallons of fuel.

Major Thomas M. Nial

DON'T BE AFRAID of the student deferment exam. If you're eligible for it, take it. You may be cutting your own throat if you don't.

Why? First, you may have a good enough class standing now to rate a deferment, but your standing may drop or the requirement may be raised next year and the test not given you again. Get a good test score now and you'll have the extra qualification.

Second, the regulations now say boards may defer students who either have a certain class standing or get a certain test score. But that "or" possibly may be changed to "and" sometime in the future. If so, and you never took the test, you'd be out in the cold.

Only those now in college are eligible for the test. High school seniors are not. Neither are those presently in graduate school. They may be deferred merely if their school states they are meeting degree requirements and are likely to get their degrees.

How about married collegians classified 3-A? Should they take it? Sure. Maybe Congress will knock out deferments for non-father husbands. If they did not, then qualify for the student deferment, they'd be very much 1-A.

APPLICATIONS FOR the test are available only at draft boards, not on your campus or elsewhere. But you do not have to travel home to the board you're registered under to get one. Pick up an application at any board in your college town.

Your local board, incidentally, is not required to defer you if you have a certain test score or class standing. Boards classify registrants II-A because of their work in industry or their "activity in study, research or medical, scientific or other endeavors." Such work or activity must be "necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest"—a phrase you hear constantly in connection with occupational deferments.

The new regulation goes on to say that an undergraduate's activity in study "may" be considered necessary to the maintenance of the public health, safety or interest when he either has that class standing or test score. The reg does not say the board "shall" defer him, but simply that it "may" if it considers his study essential.

But the reg does mean that no undergraduate in college may be even considered for deferment by his board unless he does have the right class standing or test score.

CONGRESS ON the other hand, may stick a provision in the new draft bill which would mean that boards need not consider test scores or class standings at all when it comes to deferring students.

When you fill out the application for the exam, you state at which of the 1,200 exam centers you would be able to take it on one of three dates: May 26, June 16 and June 30, all Saturdays.

Some fellows' religious beliefs do not allow them to take the test on a Saturday, so for them — and them alone—July 12, a Thursday has been set aside as a special exam date.

Harding Choir Concert Set

Will Be Presented At Edison May 15

The Harding High School a cappella choir of 54 voices will present its annual concert Tuesday, May 15, at 8:15 p.m. in the Edison Junior High School auditorium. The choir is directed by L. G. Jones, vocal music supervisor in the city schools.

Religious, sacred and novelty numbers will make up the program to be given by the choir. Also included in the program will be a group of piano selections by Miss Nancy Breithaupt, choir accompanist, and songs by the boys' ensemble.

Members of the ensemble are Loren Heiser, first tenor; John Goff and Tom Indoe, second tenors; Gary Snouffer and Lowell Jones, baritones, and Dean Ludwig, bass.

Tickets, priced at 50 cents, are now on sale and available from members of the choir. They also will be sold at the door of the theater the night of the concert.

Morrow County Farms Get Wildlife Plans

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Seven farms in Morrow County have been approved by the division of wildlife of the state department of Natural Resources to receive wildlife development plans according to Roy Kinnaird, district conservationist, who states that the farmers are all cooperators in the Headwaters Soil Conservation District. They are Dr. Lowell Murphy and Richard Denton of Cardington Township, Paul Kunze and Raymond Williams of Perry Township, Robert Whitacre of Williamsport, L. D. Rinehart of Franklin Township, Fred Hawkins of Perry Township, and Frank Matlack of North Bloomfield Township.

The supplementary agreements with the state division of conservation are for the purpose of the development of wildlife areas. This purpose is reached by planting multiflora rose and other trees and shrubs in areas that are not suited for any other type of production.

Marsox Idle After Victory Over Newark, 8-5

Through the SPORTSCOPE with A. L. McCLAIN

GONE TO THE WARS. When the umpire yells, "Play ball," at Garfield Park tonight for the opening of Marion's softball season, Ed Smith and Wesley will take the field in the Church League. Missing from the scene, however, will be some of the most familiar performers of the past.

Highest hit last year was St. Mary No. 1, champions of its league [illegible] Bob Whittenberger and Tom Moran are both with the armed forces in Korea. Bob was recently wounded in action.

Manager Don Moran, Tom's brother, still has the team rated the class to beat. Steve Norris once again will handle most of the pitching assignments and Charley Rizzo and Dan McGinnis are expected to provide most of the power at the plate.

ALL-STARS PRIMED. Sharp's All-Stars, winners of the City Championship last year and Little World Series last year, will again boast perhaps the strongest roster of all the leagues.

Managed by Harold Smith "Fats" Millisor will do most of the [illegible] and up to the field [illegible] expects to play both with M.P.S. and Smith-Penny Motors. George Keel, Bob Eckard, Ray Robbins, Charley Rose, Dick McIvane, Lefty Cole [illegible] others. Many observers rate Walters the best softball hitter in Marion.

DRIE EAGER. With Hoss Washburn back to captain Erie, winners in the Industrial League No. 2 last year, the Erie team is expected to be the No. 1 Industrial Loop Claiborne Plummer will be back to take his turn on the mound with Paul Davis behind the plate.

Marion Power Shovel will defend its title in the Industrial League No. 1. Dwight Wilcox will be the manager. Returning players are Don Dott, Jack Wiggins, Bob Owen and Fritz Walters. The latter will play both with M.P.S. and Smith-Penny.

Missing from the lineup is Harley Boals, now in the service.

SHANTY TOWNERS MISSING. One of the biggest disappointments to softball fans will be the absence of a Shanty Town team this season. The team withdrew during last year's play.

The Shanty squad was easily the biggest drawing card in Marion softball as well as boasting one of the strongest outfits. After their withdrawal they played on an independent basis, but no word has been heard from the group on the '51 season.

MEN IN BLUE. Back to serve as umpires again will be such familiar arbitrators as Mel Lehner, Wade Conkle, Bill Woung, "Fats" Millisor, and Bill Darnell. Conkle will serve as umpire-in-chief.

Open Against Phils in Lima Tuesday Night

After being battered for 34 runs in the last two games, the Marion Red Sox finally got a complete game from one of their hurlers and won over the Newark Yanks, 8-5, here Saturday night. Cold weather kept the attendance down to only 300.

Manager Elmer Yoter's crew was idle yesterday and today, but will open a two-game series in Lima tomorrow. The Sox return here Saturday for a single game and doubleheader Sunday against Andy Gilbert's Springfield Giants.

Lefty Dick Tarys and Bob Penny are expected to pitch the games in Lima.

Bob Marciniec gave up 11 safeties to the visiting Yanks, but scattered them effectively and had Bunny Mick's batters hitting the ball on the ground. Marion's infield had 20 assists for a near record total.

Big Sock

Nuetzel, Newark's starting hurler, held the Marsox in check with only a Texas League single for the first four and two-thirds innings until Marv Stendel, Marion's big first sacker, drove one far out of the park in the fifth with two mates aboard. The winners added two more off Lucia and chased home three more in the eighth off Russo.

Newark took an eary 1-0 lead in the opening frame when Bill Lege doubled down the left field line, went to third on an error and came home when Mick was thrown out at second on an attempted steal. Frank Donovan and Brizes followed with singles that went to waste when Shollenberger struck out.

The Yanks added two more in the top of the third on an error and hits by Brizes, Shollenberger, and Lee's double. Shollenberger was out at the plate while attempting to score on the two bagger by Lee.

After the Marsox had tied the score on Stendel's drive, single runs in the sixth, seventh, and the three-run outburst in the eighth clinched the game. Walks to Pepper Vinci, Jim Evanik, Renzi, and Dick Brodowski's double to center accounted for the three tallies.

Homer in Ninth

Mick opened the ninth with a homer that barely cleared the right field fence, but the next three Yank batters went down in order.

Shollenberger, Newark third sacker, and Vinci, Marion's hustling shortstop took fielding honors.

Young Marciniec's father, Stanley "Bob" Marciniec drove from his home in Auburn, N. Y., to see his son pitch. He reported it was the first time the youthful righthander had hurled a full nine-inning game . . . Marv Stendel called the turn on his home in the third. He told his teammates in the dugout before going to bat, "I'm going to hit one this time. His drive was a lusty poke near the scoreboard . . . Pepper Vinci, Marsox shortstop, turned in an outstanding game at short, and revealed a strong throwing arm . . . With the bases loaded and the count three and two on George Radick in the third, Nuetzel picked Evanik off third base . . . Frank Donovan, Newark's big right fielder, played first base for

Count Turf Forced To Skip Preakness After Derby Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7—(AP)—The brilliance of a big-hearted bay horse that came unheralded to Derbytown and won the admiration of 100,000 racegoers remained the chief topic of conversation in the stable area of Churchill Downs today.

But sharing in the talk of Count Turf's great victory in the 77th Kentucky Derby Saturday was a mild controversy centered around the dust storm churned up by the 20-horse cavalry charge in the big race.

Everywhere you went, they were asking the question, "was Count Turf's victory the real thing or will he now return to the mediocre form that marked his campaigning up to Derby time?"

Everybody agreed the colt—whose father, Count Fleet, and Grandfather, Reigh Count, won other derbies— had raced with too much inconsistency in early races to show promise of becoming a great champion.

His supporters suggest, however, that Count Turf may be just now rounding into his real form. He didn't show a weakness in his four-length Derby victory, the richest in history with a gross value of $126,100.

And on top of that, he came out of the race fresher than any Derby winner in many a year. He was frisky, playful and seemly still full of pep when he was was shipped yesterday to Jamaica for a crack at some of the stakes —including the Belmont— at that track.

He will have to skip the Preakness, one gem of racing's triple crown. Jack Amiel, New York cafe and real estate man, didn't think enough of his horse to nominate him for the Maryland classic. The Derby, the Preakness, and the Belmont make up the triple crown.

But Amiel's lack of confidence in his colt at the time the Preakness people were taking nominations was matched by some other owners. Not one of the first five finishers in the Derby is eligible for the Preakness.

They are Royal Mustang, the second Derby horse; Ruhe, third, Phil D., fourth; and Fanfare, fifth.

Speed to Burn

Well-placed from the outset and passing horses all the way down the back stretch, Count Turf took the lead heading for home and came in with speed to burn.

Four lengths back was the surprising Royal Mustang, owned by Sam E. Wilson, a head to the good over Mrs. Emil Denemark's Ruhe. Then came W. C. Martin's Phil D. and Calumet Farm's Fanfare, with the 5 to 2 favorite, Battle Morn a disappointing sixth.

The other horses finished in this order: Anyoldtime, Pur Sang, Hall of Fame, Timely Reward, Counterpoint, Repetoire, King Clover, Sonic, Sir Bee Bum, Snuzzle, Fighting Back, Big Stretch, Golden Birch and Mameluke.

Red Birds Take Two in Association

By The Associated Press

Pitchers stole the play both on the mound and at the plate in the American Association Sunday.

Bob Porterfield, making his first start since the New York Yankees optioned him to Kansas City, twirled a four-hitter to guide the second-place Blues over Louisville, 6-1, in a seven-inning nightcap.

The Colonels took the opener 5-2 behind Jim McTonald's seven hitter.

Columbus belted St. Paul, 11-3, and, 7-3. Redbird Pitcher Cotton Deal slammed a three-run homer and drove in a total seven runs for the afternoon. Marty Garlock, winner of the opener homered and doubled.

League - leading Milwaukee counted two roundtrippers in each game to down Indianapolis, 6-3, and, 4-3.

Third-place Toledo was defeated twice, 10-2 and 8-7, by Minneapolis. Adrian Zabala held the Hens to seven hits in the starter while his mates made nine blows good for ten runs. Eight doubles and four homers were hammered in the nightcap with the Millers scoring in the last inning after Toledo rallied for four runs to tie the game.

Detroiters Gain Lead in A.B.C.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 7—(AP)—The Stroh's of Detroit blasted their way into first place in the team event in the American Bowling Congress tournament last night with a team total of 3,045.

The Detroiters unseated the Murphy Truckers of Minneapolis as team event leaders on games of 977, 1,016 and 1,052.

The Stroh's are champions of the Detroit Times All-Star Classic and Motor City Classic Leagues.

The last of the four defending champions moved into action tonight when Frank Santore of New York City, 1950 all-events champion, seeks to repeat his performance at Columbus last year. He goes with the American Bowling & Billiard Five which has rolled consecutive 2,900 counts in the last four A.B.C. tourneys.

First Try for 36-Year-Old

Nominate Vander Meer To Face Nats Tonight

CLEVELAND, May 7—(AP)—Double No-Hit Johnny Vander Meer goes to the mound tonight for the Cleveland Indians who seek to cop the rubber game of their first series with the Washington Nationals.

Yesterday's split with the Nats dropped the second-place Tribe two full games behind the New York Yankees. Washington thumped the Indians, 8-1, in the opener, but Cleveland won the nightcap, 4-2.

Vandy's chance to keep Cleveland on the Yanks' heels comes because three Cleveland moundsmen are sidelined with minor ailments. Bob Lemon strained his side Wednesday batting against Boston; Bob Feller came up with a sore back and missed his turn yesterday; and Steve Gromek has influenza.

First Start

Sandalio Consuegra, a Cuban righthander who has won three, opposes the 36-year-old Vander Meer who will be making his first American League start. Vandy hurled two consecutive no-hitters for Cincinnati in 1938 and pitched 10 seasons for the Reds.

Another new Tribe southpaw, Lou Brissie, lost the first game yesterday in the five innings he worked. A three-run homer by Eddie Yost in the fifth was the decisive blow.

Instead of showering and calling it a day's work, Brissie came back to pitch the final frame of the nightcap and end a rally Washington had going against Bob Chakales.

Chakales, a 23-year-old rookie righthander making his first major league start, gave only five hits in eight innings. Thanks to a two-run first inning homer by Al Rosen and a two-run single by Ray Boone in the third, he had a 4-2 lead when he tired late in the game.

Eddie Yost led off the ninth with a single, and Gil Coan drew Chakales' eighth walk. Brissie was called in and got the next three batters to leave the tying runs stranded.

Big Third

Three of Cleveland's eight hits off Bob Ross came in the third—Harry Simpson's single, Albie Clark's double, and Boone's base hit past shortstop.

The Nationals offset Rosen's homer by getting two in the third Coan and Sam Mele singled, and Chakales walked two batters to force in Coan. Mele scored on a fly.

Julio Moreno scattered seven hits and had things pretty much his own way in beating the Tribe in the opener. The Indians' lone run came in the third on Rosen's double after Dale Mitchell's single.

A walk, a single and Larry Doby's wild throw into the dugout back of third brought in the first of two runs Washington scored on Brissie in the second inning. After Yost's homer the Nats added single runs to their margin in each of the last three innings off reliefers George Zuverink and Charlie Harris.

Lone Eagle, Girls On Grapple Card

Promoter Les Fishbaugh today announced a double main event for the Thursday night wrestling program at the armory.

Highlighting the card is a match between Chippewa Lone Eagle and Jules "Speedy" LaRance. Eagle, one of the leading television stars in the midwest, will be meeting one of the roughest in the game in LaRrance.

The other feature bout will pit Elvira Snodgrass against Adela Antone, the Nature Girl. The bout might turn into a grudge fight since two weeks ago, the two met in a tag team match and Snodgrass was disqualified for roughness.

Irish McGee and Roland Meeker will tangle in the opening bout at 8:30. Meeker recently posted a win over Tarzan Paul Orth in a local bout. Tickets for the show are on sale at Markert and Lewis or may be purchased Thursday night at the armory.

The highest point in New Jersey is Kittatinny, 1,805 feet in altitude. It is located near the Delaware water gap.

1,473 See Columbus Driver Score Sweep at Speedway

A good crowd of 1,473 fans jammed Marion Speedway on opening day yesterday to see three new track records made and be on hand as a [illegible] midget racer [illegible] to run all events he was eligible [illegible]

Al Weiser of Columbus broke the new track records set previously on the day by Paul Hoover of Marion, Bill Gray of Akron and Al Weiser of Akron. He covered four records by 47 seconds to score the best time ever turned on the electric timer at the local speedway, 1:30 seconds for the quarter mile.

Weiser went on to win the feature race over Paul Hoover of Marion second, Al Weiser of Akron third and Bill Snyder of Akron, fourth. These were the first heat races.

Ron Peters won the first elimination race over Dick Jordan of Akron second and Wayne Strickland third. Bob Miley was forced out of the race on his 15th lap when [illegible] Al Weiser came back to take the second heat.

Lapped Field

So after them lapped the entire field of 10 cars on the 25-lap pursuit race in only four laps instead of the usual eight on the half mile.

Schaffer won to get his day's work by winning the 50-lap feature over the Marion Speedway. Tommy Paul Parks of Columbus was second, Al Weiser of Akron was third, Bill Grey of Akron was fourth and Paul Hooper of Marion was fifth.

Of the twenty cars starting the 50-lap feature event, only 14 crossed the finish line. One wound up high on the rim of the south curve, one flattened a right front wheel and slid into the infield, another spun out just after coming out of the north curve, another stalled on the backstretch while one blew a tire on the south curve. No drivers were injured despite some close shaves.

Softball Play Opens Tonight

Marion's first of four softball leagues will open tonight with the Church Loop playing four games. Starting time is 6:15.

Epworth takes on Wesley at 6:15 at Garfield Park while at the same time over at McKinley Field Church of the Brethren and Trinity will be playing a twilight affair.

In the second game at Garfield, starting at 7:30, Greenwood plays Lee Street. St. Mary No. 1, last year's champs, play St. Mary No. 2 at 8:45 in the windup.

Question: What Did Durocher Say Afterwards?

NEW YORK, May 7—(AP)—Connie Ryan, Cincinnati second baseman added a fresh twist to the old hidden ball trick yesterday against the New York Giants.

In the tenth inning of the first game at the Polo Grounds, the Giants' Whitey Lockman reached second with the potential tieing run on a single and a sacrifice.

After the sacrifice play, Ryan returned to the bag and said: "Say, Whitey, would you mind stepping off for a minute. I want to straighten out the bag."

Whitey obliged. Ryan tagged him with the hidden ball.

"You out!" yelled the ump. Whitey turned red. The Reds won, 4-3.

BUCK SAILORS WIN

COLUMBUS, May 7—(AP)—Ohio State's sailing team won a regional elimination competition for the midwest championship yesterday by scoring 105 points at Buckeye Lake to 101 for Ohio Wesleyan and 86 for Case Tech.

Edison Fifth In Newark Relays

Edison Junior High School's 880-yard relay team finished fifth in the Newark Relays special junior high event Saturday at Newark.

The race was won by the Cleveland Central squad which set a new record for the event, 1:35.6. Members of the Marion team included Joe Albinack, Dick Bolinger, Jim Seiter and Bill Whittington.

Pirates' Chambers Limits Braves To No-Hits

Mates Provide Top Support in Field

By JOE KELLEY

BOSTON, May 7 — (AP) — Southpaw Cliff Chambers of the Pittsburgh Pirates sizzled a two-no-hitter against the Boston Braves [illegible] and says he was [illegible] with the team.

Fresh from a bout with the flu the lanky lefthander pitched the year's no-hit of the majors in the second game of a Sunday double-header.

But between [illegible] on the back he [illegible]

Comparison never means as much in a no-hitter. There's nine [illegible] out there. A pitcher [illegible]

Is he [illegible] the no-hitter. Sure [illegible] but [illegible]

[illegible] I had a [illegible] Hadn't thought [illegible] Tuesday. But [illegible] breakfast and [illegible] I might as well give it a try.

121st No Hitter

[illegible] baseball's 121st no-hitter [illegible] 1875.

[illegible] 24 years [illegible] pass [illegible] since [illegible] pitched [illegible] the [illegible] building up to the [illegible] Sure I [illegible] the first inning I hadn't given any hits. That big scoreboard hits you right in the eye. But the no hits didn't impress me because I'd had men on base.

"But in the ninth I knew and really tried for it.

Those two long pokes by (Bob) Elliott and (Walker) Cooper had me worried at the time, but now that I look back I can see where that high hopper by (Luis) Olmo was a sure hit if I hadn't got it myself. He referred to a bounced hit by the Puerto Rican outfielder in the fifth which he grabbed to throw Olmo out at first.

In the sixth there were men on first and third with two out when the Boston thirdsacker Elliott hit the good wood to a fast ball and belted it on a line to right center.

The wind dropped it in time for hard running rightfielder Gus Bell to haul it down.

Cooper, husky, hardhitting Boston catcher, got hold of a Chambers pitch in the ninth and clouted it high and far to center field. George Metkovich pulled in that one for the second out of the inning.

"I was glad to see the 'Cat' (Methovich) pull in Olmo's smash to center for the last out, too," Chambers grinned. "I watched that one all the way."

Cliff phoned his wife at Library, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb, after the game and she was all agog. "This is some thrill," she said.

Nick Maddox, a Pittsburgher who pitched a no-hitter for the Pirates in 1907 also was happy for Chambers. "I really pulled for him," said Maddox.

Forgotten in the excitement was George Estock, rookie Boston righthander, starting and losing pitcher against Chambers.

"What luck I have, moaned Estock. "I start my first major league game and what happens? The guy throws a no hitter at me."

In other games around the majors the surprising St. Louis Cardinals thumped the Dodgers, 11-7, despite a home run with the bases full by Brooklyn's Pee Wee Reese. After blowing a 5-0 lead the Redbirds bounced back with six in the eighth to overcome a 7-5 Brooklyn edge. The triumph gave the pace-setting Cards a half-game bulge over the Braves.

Jackie Robinson's first error of the season, on a potential inning ending double play ball opened the gates for five St. Louis runs in the eighth.

Philadelphia and Chicago split a National League doubleheader. The Phils won the opener, 5-4 and the Cubs took the 10-inning nightcap 9-7. A two-run double by Granny Hamner featured a four-run uprising in the sixth to give Bubba Church his second Philadelphia win in the opener.

The Clubs slammed Robin Roberts and Bob Miller for 17 hits in the finale. Triples by Woody Burgess and Bob Ramazzotti produced the winnings runs in the 10th.

New York Giants and Cincinnati also divided a twinbill. The Reds won the first, 4-3 on Ted Stillcup's 10th inning homer. Bobby Adams' pinch hit double had brought in two Red runs in the ninth to force the overtime. Frank Smith was the winner.

The Giants who now have dropped all four overtime tilts won the second game, 8-5, on Hank Thompson's three-run homer in the first inning.

New York's high-flying Yankees whipped the Tigers, 11-6 in victory and increased their American League lead to two games. Detroit for their eighth straight over Cleveland.

Chicago's White Sox swept two games from the Athletics 4-1, and 8-3. Ken Holcombe won a five-hitter in the opener. Four Philly hurlers issued 15 walks within three of the record, to make it easy for Chicago in the second game.

Ted Williams' home run in the 10th gave the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 first game victory over the Browns but St. Louis came back to win the second game, 8-2. Eight-hit pitching by Al Widmar and a three-run homer by Catcher Sherman Lollar gave the Browns the split.

Newark Hurlers Walk 26 Giants

By The Associated Press

Springfield's Giants lost the opener of an Ohio-Indiana League doubleheader to Newark, 8-5 yesterday but bounced back to wallop the Yankees 23-4 in a second game noteworthy for its statistics.

Four Newark pitchers helped the Giants by walking 26 batters. Springfield could have made a few more runs but they left 20 men stranded on base.

The opener was an ordinary victory for Newark behind the three-hit pitching of righthander Bill Ford.

Richmond and Lima split a doubleheader at Richmond, the hometowners taking the opener, 10-3, and Lima the night, 4-1.

League President Frank Colley witnesses the double bill.

Truman Sends Glass Vases

Gifts Pouring In For Egypt's King, Bride, 17

CAIRO, May 7—(AP)—Precious gifts poured into Cairo's Abdin Palace today following the gala marriage at which King Farouk yesterday made beautiful 17-year-old Narriman Sadek his queen wife.

As the Nile kingdom continued its jubilant rejoicing at the nuptials with a public holiday today, Farouk and his commoner bride prepared for a tea party at the palace tonight. A gala diplomatic reception tomorrow night will wind up the festivities.

The chiefs of foreign diplomatic missions arrived at the palace at mid-morning today, bringing gifts from their heads of state.

U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery delivered from President Truman a set of four matched Steuben glass vases. Truman had given one vase—a larger one—to Iran's Shah on his recent marriage.

From King George VI came a massive silver inkstand, handed over by Britain's Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson.

What the Russians were giving—if anything—was a deep dark secret.

Many of the gifts were of solid gold. Some were decorated with diamonds and other precious stones.

B-36 Crash

a few minutes later. The bomber, almost as long as a city block, had just finished a three-hour flight from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex.

Kirtland firefighters arrived at the scene—some two blocks from the municipal airport terminal—less than four minutes after the crash-up 12:35 p.m. (MST). The three injured and bodies of 10 dead were thrown clear. Crash crews had to prowl the mangled wreckage for the others.

Wind Fans Flames

Winds in excess of 40 miles an hour stirred up a billowing sandstorm and fanned the flames quickly to a parked C-54 Air Force transport and a small, private cargo plane.

Minutes before, the bomber caused windows to rattle and walls to vibrate by roaring not over 4,000 feet above the city.

Witnesses told this story:

The plane approached the east-west runway about 500 feet up. About halfway down the strip, the wingtip scraped the ground. The impact tore the propellor and cowling from the right outboard pusher-type engine and burst the right jet engine pod. A jet pod on a B-36 contains two auxiliary jet engines. There is one pod on each wingtip, some 230 feet apart.

The plane circled to the right. About three-fourths of the way around the circle, the right wing again dug in, the nose plowed down and the plane exploded. Bits of burning wreckage were strewn over a quarter-mile area.

The last and worst previous B-36 crash killed 14 men when a B-36 and F-51 fighter collided April 28 near Carney, Okla.

The others:

Nov. 22, 1950, two of 16 crewmen killed south of Fort Worth; Feb. 4, 1950, five of 17 crewmen killed on British Columbia coast; Sept. 16, 1949, five killed when B-36 failed takeoff at Carswell, plunging into a lake.

Civil Defense Administrator Raps Apathy

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell today urged a nationwide crusade against apathy.

"We must make it clear that there is a defense against the atomic bomb—not perfect, but a good one," Caldwell said in a speech prepared for the opening session of a two-day civil defense conference.

Caldwell declared that too many people in this country fall into one of two groups—those who are apathetic about the A-bomb and its effects or those who are beset "by fear and helplessness."

Split Threatens Iran's New Gov't

TEHRAN, Iran, May 7—(AP)—Iran's new government was threatened today by a split with Fedayan Islam, the fanatical Moslem avenger whose assassination tactics sparked the nationalization drive that brought Premier F. Mohammed Mossadegh to power.

Mossadegh received an overwhelming vote of confidence in parliament yesterday, from 99 out of 101 deputies present in the Majlis (lower house).

But last night the Fedayan Islam revealed a surprise rift with the newly-installed premier when it distributed leaflets accusing him of vague "crimes" against Islam.

The secret order, which was responsible for the assassination of Premier Ali Razmara and had in the past supported Mossadegh threatened in its leaflets to "settle accounts" with the premier and its national front leaders unless they free 12 Fedayan Islam terrorists.

3 Arrested on Charges Of Disorderly Conduct

Three men were arrested Saturday on disorderly conduct charge.

Leon Downing, 32, of 908 Kenton avenue and James Kelly, 68, of the same address got into a fight on Kenton avenue at 10:23 p.m. Saturday, were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct, police said. Downing sustained a cut eye and was taken at Marion City Hospital. Three stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Both men were fined $25 and costs when they pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court today. Kelly was taken to Marion County jail, but Downing paid his fine and was released.

Edward Franklin Ford, 32, of rear Mecker was arrested on Maine avenue and charged with intoxication, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest at 3:48 p.m. Saturday. He pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court today and was fined $50 and costs. He was taken to Marion County jail when he could not pay his fine.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, May 7—(UP)—Selective buying gave the market an appearance of strength at a moderately active opening today.

But there were many losers. Oils tended lower although Amerada, among the higher-priced petroleums, rose a full point to 201. Special issues stood out in several instances.

Standard Oil (N. J.) opened at 119¾ off ⅛. Cities Service off ⅝; and Pure Oil 53¾ off ⅛. Mission Corp. gained ½ to 88¼. Ashland Oil but a new high at 40½, up ¾ on good earnings.

Union Pacific rose ¾ point to 108¼ in the rails. Utilities ruled steady to firm.

Bethlehem Steel declined ¾ point to 56¼ on 1,200 shares. U. S. Steel eased ⅛ to 45¼ on 1,500 shares. Stockholders of the latter hold their 50th annual meeting today at Hoboken, N. J.

General Motors and Chrysler eased in the autos. Small losses were noted in a number of other issued. Goodyear and Goodrich strengthened in the tire section. Allied Chemical eased while Du Pont firmed in the chemicals.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE ILL

TULSA, Okla., May 7—(AP)—Screen star Shirley Temple underwent an emergency appendectomy last night after being stricken while driving through Tulsa. Attendants at Hillcrest Memorial Hospital described the condition of the 23-year-old movie actress as good.

Moley

This is utter nonsense. It is a demonstrable fact not only that the United States is not denying Britain raw materials, but also that such shortages as they have are due to gross incompetences of the Labor government. Bevan's claim is clearly denied in the responsible British press. The British government itself has failed to develop production of sulphur and sulphuric acid in Britain and the Empire. Thus, we are assured by responsible people in Britain that we should pay no attention to the Bevan diatribes.

BUT THIS BREAK of Bevan's may well be a prelude to a defeat of the government and another election. He claims that he will vote with his party to keep it in power. But in this situation there is great likelihood that some of his follower may be absent when important votes are taken. They are more likely to find illness or some other reason for failing to vote. And it will take only the defection of a dozen or so to bring about the crisis. When that happens, an election will surely bring the Conservative Party back into power. Then Bevan and his fellow radicals may well attempt to seize leadership in a disorganized Labor Party.

LOSE WEIGHT
Reduce With Rennel

"I am very grateful for the wonderful product Rennel Concentrate," writes Flora Williams, 1030 Flint St., Cincinnati 14, Ohio. "Since taking Rennel I have lost 30 lbs., and I really feel fine. Now I can again enjoy doing my work. It's been fun losing weight with Rennel."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

FOG AND MATCHES UNHAPPILY AS THE BIG TRADER WALKS OUT OF THE AUCTION ROOMS WITH THE DUCHESS ON HIS ARM
THEN THE MAGICIAN HOOKS A RIDE ON THE TAXI CAB IN WHICH THEY GO TO THE DUCHESS' QUARTERS TO PICK UP HER BAGGAGE...
...BUT AS THEY ENTER THE BUILDING...
NO FUSS, NOW! THE YOUNG LYDY WILL COME WITH US!
WE'LL JUST TYKE OVER THAT TAXI TO RIDE YOU TO THE STATION!...IN YOU GO, MISS!
..THE FLABBERGASTED TRADER STARTS TO PROTEST —THEN REALIZES THAT BUYING THE DUCHESS AT AUCTION AND HELPING HER TO ESCAPE THE POLICE COULD BE A WORSE CRIME THAN WHATEVER SHE MIGHT BE WANTED FOR....
BUT—I—
ON YOUR WAY, BUCKO! YOU'RE NOT WANTED FOR ANYTHING!

War Jitters Fail To Slow Oil Boom In Middle East

Fred J. Zuesy, chief of The Associated Press bureau at Cairo, has returned to that capital after a swing through the Middle East for a close look at the oil situation. In the following dispatch he sums up his findings.

By FRED J. ZUSY

CAIRO, Egypt, May 7 (AP)—The Middle East is booming along with record oil production despite a widespread uneasiness over the nationalization issue and fear of a possible war move by Russia.

This reporter has just completed a tour of the chief oil areas including Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, Baghdad and Bashar in Iraq, Abadan in Iran and the Sheikhdoms of Kuwait and Bahrein.

These general impressions were obtained from western oilmen working in this area:

1. There is a general hope that the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. will be able to work out an operating agreement with Iran, which recently nationalized the huge industry. Americans and British alike agree that Iran oil must be saved for the West and denied to Russia.

2. The nationalization issue in Iraq—Iran's next door neighbor—is regarded as potentially serious but not imminently so, with Iraq's present government being run by strongman Nuri Pasha Said, veteran pro-British prime minister.

3. In other main producing areas, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, there is little likelihood of interest in nationalization now because of the patriarchal society. But in Saudi Arabia, complications may arise if and when King Ibn Saud dies, with possible internal feuding over the right to succession to the title.

Keeping Close Watch

Men in the oil fields centered in the waste desert areas around the humid Persian gulf are keeping a close watch on Iranian developments.

They point out that the Abadan fields supplied the Allies with a great volume of petroleum products, including aviation gasoline, during the last war.

They add that the major oil distributors can not choose to ignore Iranian oil in order to rebuff expropriation because that would mean Iran would sell to Russia. These oilmen say Russia could ship oil eastward by tanker or construct a pipeline to the Caspian sea.

But they add that the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., with 159 tankers and more than 30 being built, has the largest tanker fleet in the world. The oilmen say these tankers are vital to exploit Iran's oil.

There was a general feeling of insecurity in the oilfields in mid-April. For example, an American news commentator reportedly predicted Russian paratroops would strike in a Pearl-harbor type attack. This caused great tension and excitement, although no incidents.

There are plans under way for air defense. Air raid drills already have begun in some sections on a small scale.

Only One Airfield

The United States has only one airfield in the area, at Dhahran in Saudi Arabia. That is a Military Air Transport Service (MATS) base with only a handful of planes, including three unarmed B-29s equipped only for weather reconnaissance.

Travelers and air force officials admit there is not a single antiaircraft gun for defense.

The British have several fighter fields in Iraq and a small naval contingent in the Gulf. This, with a U. S. Navy seaplane tender constitutes the Western defensive forces.

The nationalization drive in the oil fields is another of the inherent hazards that always has made the oil business a gamble. Oilmen have been saying that oil always seems to be found in countries with weak governments.

There seems to be a firm realization now that to continue operating with some semblance of friendly local relationship the rulers will have to be cut in on a bigger share of the profits.

Countries like Iran and Iraq, it is apparent, can use higher royalties to good effect in great land development schemes to raise living standards.

But it is the general belief that a good share of the Saudi Arabian royalties are now going to pay for luxurious living of the royal family. Statistical evidence is lacking since there is no official budget.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He declared that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 5833 Relyea Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

New Steel Production Record Set

CLEVELAND, May 7—(UP)—Steel mills in the United States set on all-time new production record last week, the second time in two months that a mark was established, Steel magazine reported today.

Steel said that production, for the ninth week in a row, exceeded two million tons. Last week's $2,079,000 ton output was the highest in history.

There is growing concern, the magazine said, that the present rate cannot be maintained. Increasing shortages in pig iron, scrap, coke and ferro alloys are felt in foundry schedules. Also, Steel pointed out, question is rising as to how long equipment can be pushed to the limit without shutdowns for repairs. Last week's rate was 104 percent of capacity.

Iron ore, Steel reported, has been shipped from upper Great Lakes ports in heavy volume for this early in the season. Cumulative total at the end of last week was 5,939,320 tons, compared with only 304,392 tons at this time last year.

In spite of the record production, the magazine said, availability of steel for the general consuming market is uncertain.

PLANS SPRAY PROGRAM

MT. GILEAD—Morrow County Washington Township farmers are pioneering in airplane farming this week according to the Agricultural Aviation Service of Columbus, which plans to spray for spittle-bug control on hay fields. In the spraying program the agency works closely with the Ohio Aviation Board, Agricultural Coordinator, Ralph Young, and T. H. Parks, Ohio State University Entomologist and the College of Engineering.

The Nature of Things

One of the chief purposes of Ross K Marshall's life is to convince as many people as possible that science is not black magic, that it isn't even very hard to understand and that it can be a good deal of fun. In pursuit of his notable aim he has used every platform available. He has been an amateur science writer for newspapers and an author. He has delivered the commercials for a television show and he also has his own TV show, The Nature of Things, one of the oldest and one of the best educational shows on the air (NBC-TV Sundays at 3 p.m. EST Saturdays).

John Crosby

The Nature of Things is a pleasant and easy show in which Dr. Marshall lectures and demonstrates all sorts of scientific subjects—ranging from everyday topics such as streamlining to pure science such as mathematics. Sounds fairly weighty but it isn't. Marshall's show has a very respectable audience and has drawn as many as 2,000 letters a week. Marshall is especially proud of the fact that he is recognized in the bars in New York and Boston as the tough and expert TV audience—the bartenders.

NOTHING IRRITATES him more than to have his program billed as a science lecture scares people away, he says. While lecturing at the Museum of Natural History, Marshall works up as much as possible and uses pictures, diagrams, pictures, models, anything to bring and anchor facts. The much you learn from one essay depends on how much you know now. I learned about the moon on one of Dr. Marshall's programs. To my surprise, I also got a lot out of the show, but another program, a lecture and demonstration on how a jet works, was a revelation to me and pretty elementary stuff, too.

Dr. Marshall is the first to confess that not all of his programs are good. He talks best about the things he understands thoroughly. Atoms, for example, is his specialty and he is perhaps a little too enthusiastic about that subject that, at times, he delves pretty much into everything under and above the sun. All of it is good but sometimes much of the extraneous knowledge is distributed too. Such is life, all holds together, anyhow.

A RECENT LECTURE on the principle of Archimedes which heaven knows is of considerable higher concern than Abbott and Costello, was a good illustration of Marshall's methods. He started by telling the story about how Archimedes was assigned to test the amount of gold in a king's crown. He solved it by putting it into water and in that way determining it exactly. I knew by the amount of water it displaced. Marshall then went on to demonstrate with a model of the aircraft carrier WASP, with mercury and with balloons the principle that Archimedes discovered and defined more than twenty centuries ago.

Marshall harbors strong views on educational television and is convinced that the average populace wants it—no matter what the ratings say. "If I were to ask on my program, if it should be discontinued, I would receive several thousand letters of protest. Was it George Bernard Shaw who said 'You'd better get what you like or you're going to have to like what you get.' Our TV viewers are having to like what they get. If we should give them burlesque five hours per night seven nights per week there'd still be viewers. But have the programmers the moral right to give the people that kind of fare at all times?

Gov. Lausche Proclaims "Armed Forces Day"

COLUMBUS, May 7—(AP)—Ohioans were urged today to join the nation in observance of "Armed Forces Day" on May 19.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, in a formal proclamation, said:

"I ask the citizens of the Buckeye state to cooperate in every possible way . . thus making it clear for all to see that Americans realize that keeping America strong is everybody's responsibility."

ENTERTAIN CLASS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young entertained the Bob Williams Class of Epworth Methodist Church recently at their home near Marion. Nominations for officers were made. Election will be held this month. Following the meeting, a wiener roast was held. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Roseberry on Thew avenue.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"We can have the luncheon as soon as room service can serve it," I told my father, rising from my chair. He already was on his feet, patiently impatient. "I'll go back immediately, and collect the luncheon orders."

"Why not start with ours now?" he said, bending his head toward Faith, who had slipped her hand into his and was looking up adoringly into his. What would you like for luncheon, Baby?"

"May I thank you first for letting me stay down for luncheon with the boys?" she asked prettily, and he beamed down at her.

"You are most welcome, my little sweetheart," he said fondly. "Now, tell your mother what you wish for luncheon."

"Please, Granddaddy," she pleaded, "mayn't I have whatever you have? You always order such scrumptious things. I always love them."

I smiled to myself as I saw his pleasure at the broad flattery.

"Well!" he said, pretending uncertainty, to Faith's great delight, "suppose we have cups of hot broth, mushroom omelettes, sliced tomatoes, and ice cream for dessert, also hot tea for me, and chocolate milk for you?"

"Oh!" she said, clapping her hands, "that's perfectly wonderful."

"May we have that order?" he asked me with the utmost gravity. "Indeed you may," I said. "I hope the other orders will be as simple, but I don't want to limit the boys on this, their last meal with us for some time."

"I haven't seen any limit save the sky on any order of theirs so far," my father quipped, and then with Faith skipping along beside him, her hand tucked in his, he followed me back into the living room, where Mother Graham, Katharine, Dicky and the four boys were watching the antics of young Peter, sprawled on a blanket laid over the rug.

"I'm afraid you'll have to put the young man back into the bedroom for a few minutes, Katharine," my father said. "Our plans have been changed a bit. We are going to have luncheon down here, so that we may all be with the boys for this last meal, and my daughter has evolved a plan which will insure secrecy as to your presence in the hotel. If you will give her your orders now, and then if yo, Mother Graham, Faith with, of course, young Peter, will go into some other room until luncheon is on the table, and we call you, everything will be safe. Charles will be here in attendance, but he is perfectly trustworthy."

"The bedroom will be best don't you think, Mother Graham?" Katharine asked, with the deference she always accords the older woman.

"Yes, decidedly," my mother-in-law replied, and then I wrote down their orders, Katharine, Mother Graham, Dicky, and I, almost quadruplicating my father's order, and the four boys—given carte blanche—ordered all sorts of weird combinations of the most indigestible foods.

"I'd better wire the infirmary to have beds ready for you," Dicky told them, and his mother gave a saturnine chuckle.

"I wish I had a dollar for every prediction like that I used to make about you," she said, but they never came true. Any ostrich would have envied you your digestion."

"The ostriches must be staging a convention dripping with envy about now," Dicky retorted, but the laughter of the boys was a bit self-conscious

"We really will be all right, Granzie," Bill assured her.

"Of course you will," she told him "Now, please help me into the bedroom where I'll stay until I'm called back here for luncheon I know the chief must be in haste to get this meal over, and us 'non-combatants' settled in the Philip Veritzen suite."

But after all is said and done, smoker after smoker has realized that there's only one true test: the sensible test of mildness is steady smoking. That's why millions of smokers have already made their own 30-Day Camel Mildness Tests! Today, more people get more pleasure from Camels than from any other cigarette!

Discover what you've been missing—start your own 30-Day Camel Test. In the best proving ground for a cigarette — your "T-Zone" — see for yourself how well Camels get along with your throat, puff after puff and pack after pack. See how much Camel's full, rich flavor pleases your taste. You'll soon find out for yourself why so many smokers say . . .

ONCE A CAMEL SMOKER, ALWAYS A CAMEL SMOKER!

Risë Stevens Sings Praises of Camels!

SWEETHEART OF THE OPERA, Risë Stevens smokes Camels. Says Risë. "Camels have a wonderful taste I never found in any other cigarette — and a mildness that agrees with my throat! I discovered that when I made my own 30-day Camel Test! With Camels — every puff's a pleasure!"

The Best Way to Test Cigarette Mildness

How mild can a cigarette be? Find out for yourself—the sensible, thorough way. No tricks. No one-puff experiments. Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Let your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) be the judge. You'll soon see why more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Will the Phils Win Again?

If Manager Eddie Sawyer has his way, they will! But, win, lose or draw, the Phils are Camel fans. Says Sawyer (below), "I'm a real Camel rooter. Camels are a cool, mild, great-tasting cigarette!"

Again Survey Shows Doctors' Choice

In the latest survey, conducted by an independent research organization, doctors in every branch of medicine—doctors in every State in the Union—were asked, "What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?" Again—the brand named most was Camel! According to this repeated nationwide survey, more doctors smoke Camels than any other cigarette.

The School Bond Issue

CERTAINLY there can be no doubt in the minds of readers of The Star regarding our attitude toward the $2,900,000 school bond issue to be voted on tomorrow.

The many columns of space we have contributed in support of the proposal provide absolute evidence of our belief that the bond issue should be authorized.

During the last two weeks we have presented all the information possible about the school situation and we think most people of the community will agree these facts prove that the facilities are deplorably and dangerously inadequate for the community's needs now and in the future.

Buildings and furnishings fall far short of giving the present enrollment of young people sufficient housing and equipment and that means the problem will become more and more critical in the years ahead.

There is an immediate crisis confronting the city's educational system, one which calls for prompt remedy. Delay would be virtually certain to prove costly in more ways than one.

First and most important, it would interfere with education of the community's young people by denying them advantages and accommodations to be found in schools with ample space and thoroughly modern facilities. Now there is serious overcrowding and the situation would be greatly aggravated by continued increase in Marion's population.

Second, efforts to obtain new industries and business establishments for Marion would be hampered, if not blocked completely. This prediction is based upon the undisputed fact that a community's school system is one of the first factors taken into consideration by industrial and business firms looking for a place to locate. Consequently, evidence of inadequate educational facilities automatically removes a community from the list of prospective sites. Companies almost invariably refuse to consider locating where children of their employes are not assured school advantages of the highest possible standard.

These and other related circumstances explain why The Star earnestly and enthusiastically advocates authorization of the $2,900,000 bond issue in the balloting tomorrow. We consider this one of the most vitally important proposals ever to come before Marion voters. No other that we can recall has meant more to the community and its future.

Ohio's Senatorial Election

THE forthcoming investigation of last year's Ohio senatorial election by a Senate subcommittee will have to make a tricky choice of available evidence.

If the investigators deal only with the mechanics of the campaign, their research will be stale. The characteristic of the 1950 campaign which loomed largest in Ohio was not its mechanics but the spirit behind the effort to defeat Senator Taft.

It was a negative approach to the problem of giving the state its proper representation in the U. S. Senate. The only purpose was to get rid of Robert A. Taft. Joseph T. Ferguson was the nominee of the Democrats and therefore became the nominal candidate of the anti-Taft faction.

This was contrary to the political adage that you can't beat somebody with nobody—and it proved to be a mistake. It was the attempt by outside organizations, chiefly the political arms of labor unions, to exert a negative influence over the politics of a sovereign state which stirred up Ohioans in the 1950 senatorial election. The means used were incidental to the issue of whether or not politics had sunk so far into cynicism that an able member of Congress could be defeated for no better reason than his refusal to appease one pressure bloc.

The investigators should look into the effect on representative government of that kind of politics.

Aches and Pains

THE notion is getting around that modern baseball players are brittle fellows who pull apart at the seams like a cheap suit. The source is, of course, an endless flow of information about their aches and pains.

If the ballplayers, themselves, are not becoming hypochondriacs, it is pretty clear that the public is drifting in that direction. There has come to be a kind of sadistic satisfaction in knowing about all the muscle spasms and tender ligaments which afflict the heroes of the diamond. In the old days, it is customary to point out, ballplayers were made of iron.

Like fun they were! But trainers were made of iron, and so were managers. Doctors were few and far between. And a baseball writer who cluttered up his copy with a description of a misery in a hero's joints would have had a sharp pain in his head, induced by a bat in the hands of the hero.

Modern men, as the insurance statisticians point out tirelessly, are bigger and better than ever—physically. It is only their mental antics which stir doubts.

The Cost in Korea

By George E. Sokolsky

Have "The Great Men" Forgotten Human Rights?

WHAT about the Koreans? We are constantly being told how many Americans and Chinese are being killed in Korea. But what about the Koreans? How many Koreans have been killed? How many Korean women and children have been killed? How many babies have died of shell, of shock, of starvation?

This war must seem so unbelievable to the Koreans. First, their country is promised its independence. Then they are told that they are being united. Now they know that they are being eternally united in death.

SOKOLSKY

These great men who sit in Kremlins and Pentagons seem to have forgotten altogether that human beings are not lice; that every human creature upon this earth is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, to say the least.

The monarchs who sit about planning the future treat mankind as though nothing counted but their machines of destruction. General Douglas MacArthur sought to bring that Korean war to a quick end, so that we could get out of that damned spot and bring our sons home.

But the great statesmen, the geniuses of the United Nations and the State Department and Downing Street had planned it differently and their plans go awry with each new twist of their immature minds. But people die. That is what is so important—people die.

Already more than 10,500 Americans have been killed in this stalemated war. We do not know how many Chinese have been killed; We do not know how many Koreans have been killed. And they are people too.

KOREA USED TO BE called the hermit kingdom. They kept out of the so-called world and were unbothered. Now, they have been made a major item in the news. The word, Korea, appears in headlines. Even children have heard about Seoul and Inchon. But Koreans are being killed and Seoul has become a heap of rubble.

Seoul has been the capital for nearly 600 years but now is a mound of broken stone. Who is so mighty that he can smash other people's worlds without mercy? And who is so all-powerful that he can say that Koreans can be wiped off the face of the earth, but that Chinese Communists may live in a sanctuary and that Soviet Russia is to be worshipped as Baal??

What heathen misery has come over us that we have lost all sense of pity, mercy, compassion, that the innocent are even more punished than the guilty; that homes are destroyed and temples desolated and the world has not even a tear for the wretched people whose only crime has been that they were born in the wrong place!

I SAT RECENTLY with a group of those very sure men who never doubt that their machinations and tricks will bring them wealth and power. Some of them were of the kind of businessmen who live on the cupidity of politicians. They know how to arrange things. While they are generally regarded with great favor among the people because of their success, it has become increasingly clear to me over the years that when they sing paeans over a public official in unison, sure as thunder that public official will show up sooner or later as a crook or a charlatan or swine. As a reporter, I am always suspicious of the masters of the quick buck.

And now they hate General Douglas MacArthur. Whenever one meets these men, they speak badly of MacArthur. They whisper gossip about him. They say, "He got rich in the Philippines!" I like to say, "You got rich in New York by selling black market sugar or hot oil!" Of what avail is it to give them the lie? They are proud of their lies, just as some Americans are proud of running the China blockade. It is not their sons or grandsons who died because they ran the blockade.

And when their sons are involved they will know some politician who will get desk jobs for their offspring in Washington for the duration of any war.

THESE PEOPLE hate MacArthur because they fear that a moral upsurge might drive the present brood of fixers out of Washington and they will have to make new connections, which they may not be able to do.

Just as they never give Korea a thought, so they actually never give America a thought. They only give the dollar a thought. They are our weakness, for they produce an emptiness in the soul of anyone who listens to their obscene prattle.

The Lambing

By TRUMAN TWILL

WELL, the lambs finally came like bananas — in bunches. First, there was a little bunch. This was followed by a two-day deluge of blessed events which had the members of the family running back and forth to the lying-in division to count noses every hour.

Between the beginning of mealtime and the end, a new member would make his way into the fold. From bedtime to breakfast was good for one more. Twice there were twins. Only once was there a fatality.

It was fun while it lasted, but if it had lasted another 24 hours all that bleating would have given some nearby hotel-keeper a sudden accesion of transient trade.

While there are not many things even an old hand can do at such a time, a new hand can interfere endlessly without doing any damage. The logical place to nib into the proposition is to help the ewes and their offspring get matched up.

Every ewe knows exactly how to find her lamb and every lamb knows how to find its mother and what to do thereafter. But some are inclined to be slow about it and this is a perfect excuse for a know-nothing to blunder in where a seasoned sheepman would sit out the apparent mix-up and wait for nature to take its course.

But when a 100-pound ewe begins to butt a groggy lamb who still isn't dry behind the ears because he is the brat that belongs to her ancient rival, a tender-hearted man's gorge comes up. At least a little profanity is a comfort to him, though it is no help to the groggy lamb.

Idealy, every expectant mother would have her own lying-in room and so on, but such things are rarely handled in an ideal manner. There is probably no place where a catch-as-catch-can basis seems to come about so naturally as in the process of being born.

Even among humans, with trained attendants standing around three deep and all manner of special equipment, things get pretty frantic, and there is a lot of bleating. When it is imagined what would happen if new mothers and babies had to pair up by instinct instead of a foolproof system of identification tags. What happens among sheep begins to seem pretty intelligent.

While the lambing lasted there were many passing thoughts given to Sam the Ram, lend-lease progenitor of the new generations Sam alone, of all the parties to the conspiracy, did not count the days and hours. He never paced a barn floor or peered anxiously down the dark corridors between life and death with a lantern held high over his head. Good old Sam! Congratulations, pal.

Marion County History Brevities

The stocks of goods were small in the first stores opened in Marion, and consisted of whisky, tobacco, powder and lead, cotton cloth and calico. These were the staples, and there was no money in the country. Every one wanted to buy but no one had anything to pay with. Coon, mink and deer skins were legal tender, and great quantities of them were gathered in by traders. Credit was freely given to the people, and as a large part of them were transient, and single, there were many "flittings," and loans were about equal to gains. Occasionally an exceptionally mean transaction was advertised, and the office of Judge Lynch was threatened in plain terms by the people, to deter a repetition of similar outrages.

Out of the Darkness

The Silences of Peiping

By Walter Lippmann

THERE could hardly be a more striking contrast than between the talkativness of Washington and the silences of Peiping. Invaluable, indispensable, and inspired as are all the things we are shouting at one another, it is probably more important to find out, as best as we can, what they are thinking and intending in Peiping and in Moscow.

LIPPMANN

That is not easy to do. There have been several attempts by members of the U. N. to make contact with the Chinese government through diplomatic channels. Thus far they have not been sucessful. There are many who think that they will be more successful when the Spring offensive in Korea has definitely been defeated. They believe that then it may be possible to negotiate a cease-fire.

There is another theory, more complicated and less hopeful, which has long seemed to me more probable. It is that the Korean - Chinese - Soviet operation, taken as a whole in its main conception, is an immense maneuver to divert American power in Asia and the Expulsion of the Westerners are powerful reasons. But they would not be enough, it seems to me, to account for the decision to precipitate open warfare in Korea last June.

BEFORE JUNE 25 the Communist cause was progressing triuphantly in the Far East, having taken China without severe resistance. It has been said that the Soviets thought there would be no oposition from us to the North Korean aggression and that that explains the invasion of June 25. No doubt that is part of the explanation. But I do not feel that it is the whole of it. Moscow and Peiping must have known, they cannot have failed to make it a cardinal consideration, that once the American Army into Korea, the Kremlin knew that it was challenging profoundly the American position in the Far East.

THIS POSES the question as to why the Soviet did not let time work for it, as undoubtedly it does work for it, in Asia. The answer to that question, I believe, is that a maneuver in Asia offered the best way of knocking down the Atlantic pact and the military coalition which it is organizing. For it was evident that the war-weary people of Europe could not be mobilized for a war which had its center in the Far East.

It was equally evident that if there was to be a military showdown between the U. S. S. R. and the U. S. A.—and I think the Soviets probably believe a showdown is most probable—then the Far East was for them by all odds the best place to have the showdown begin. They had at the outset an immense ally——China, which besides being a reservoir of manpower is also a gigantic buffer at the back door of the Soviet Union. Beside that, the Far East offers no decisive targets to our strategic air power. From the Russian point of view the problem is like that of a man who knows he is going to get kicked in a military orbit, the American post-brawl: the first thing he will do is turn his back and absorb the kick where it does the least damage.

BUT THAT DOES NOT exhaust the advantages of the Far East as a place to bring about a showdown with the United States. American air power can operate in a decisive sense only from the European side, only from bases and facilities which are owned by Britain and France and their dependencies. The neutralization of American air power is, obviously, the prime military objective of the Soviet Union. The self-evident way to neutralize American air power is to neutralize Europe.

This, according to all indications, so it seems to me, is what the Soviet government is working for. They have stopped talking about withdrawing the Red Army from the center of Germany and instead they appear to be using it as a force in being to back up a policy, not of military conquest but, of political neutralization. They are in effect saying to the people of Europe: "We could overrun you, and our army will remain on the Elbe to see that you do not forget it . . . but there will be no war in Europe unless Europe intervenes in Asia and, as part of a war in Asia, enables the Americans to bomb the Soviet Union." Is this the correct explanation of Soviet grand strategy? From what we know for certain, it is impossible to be sure.

Nye Bevan's Discontent

By Raymond Moley

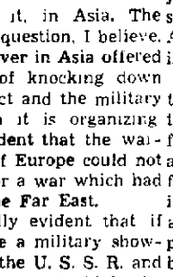
IN A COLUMN written from London during the parliamentary campaign in February, 1950, I said that if Britain is ever to be so unfortunate as to have a Socio-Communist dictator, Aneurin Bevan would be the man. The recent resignation of Bevan strengthens this belief. For a would-be dictator cannot afford to remain too long as a loyal member of a ruling government when that government is attempting by compromise to keep its jobs a little longer and is doomed to ultimate defeat.



MOLEY

Men like Bevan love to fish in troubled waters, to wreck their political household, to go into opposition and gather their group for a final coup when things descend to chaos.

Aneurin "Nye" Bevan, with whom I spent some hours, is the most formidable demagogue I have ever met. He combines the ruthless force of Huey Long with the Welsh vocabulary of John L. Lewis. He regards the hypocritical socialism of Attlee and Herbert Morrison with imperfectly disguised contempt. They hate and fear Bevan. This break has been due for a long time.

BEVAN CANNOT command more than a small minority of the current 300 Labor members of Parliament. Nor is he especially strong with the trade unions. But in the routine voting at party conferences, where a large number of assorted radicals and fellow-travelers are in regular attendance, he musters large votes. Bevan's wife, Jennie Lee, and Michael Foot, whom Mrs. Roosevelt presented to America on television last Sunday, edit a left-wing Socialist weekly which has some influence in Britain.

While Bevan made a great outcry about the government's decision to charge a fee for dentures and spectacles, his real attack has been anti-American. He claims that Britain can produce plenty of defense material and also civilian goods, but is unable to do so because the United States is monopolizing raw materials, especially sulphur. Thus, he claims, we are, despite our Marshall aid, causing unemployment over there.

Daily Bible Thought

No mortal has measured the limitless powers and qualities of the inner self. The world within is certainly as majestic as the world without: "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink. He that believeth on me, as the Scripture said, from within him shall flow rivers of living water." —John 7:37, 38.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Cross Examination Of the Crime Commission

"Members of the Kefauver Crime Commission, take the stand! . . . Hold up your right hand! . . . You solemnly swear, etc., etc.? . . . Just a few pertinent questions with regard to that report . . . If the Congress of the United States fails to pass most of the laws urged by your committee, thus plugging up the loopholes through which the tough muggs have been kept in circulation for decades, will they be any less guilty of the "action or inaction which, regardless of motivation, helps racketeers" than, for example, Bill O'Dwyer? . . . And, as the crime picture now stands, don't hundreds of Senators and Representatives belong in same alley of indifference in which you place the ex-Mayor of New York? . . . Haven't they pigeon-holed a carload of anti-crime laws, especially with regard to immigration and deportations? . . . Can the public expect an all-out fight from you for new legislation in view of the fact you so quietly settled for a brief extension of your dramatic probe? . . . Won't all the laws in the world be so much baloney in the war on mobsters unless the Bar Associations, as you urge, crack down on lawyers who work hand in glove with the top racketeers of the country? (Answer yes or no!)

"Is there any job before Congress today calling for more speed in action than the passage of legislation to save the children of America from drug peddlars who operate with comparative ease and get mild penalties even for second offenses? Do you look for swift work on changes in the deportation laws so that top gangsters can no longer thumb their noses at them? . . . (Wanna bet?)

"Is there really much chance of getting very far against the underworld, even with new laws, so long as businessmen toss lucrative contracts to known mobsters, or so long as city officials, judges and top citizens hobnob with infamous gangsters at race tracks, ball games and super-dooper banquets? . . . If we tabbed every mayor in America who played ball with the "organization" and kept the votes always in top consideration wouldn't we need to double our jails and put four boys to a cell" . . . Weren't you a little rough on ex-Mayor O'Dwyer of New York? . . . Does it seem to make sense that a man pictured as that kind of a "baddie" would start at the bottom, slaving in the engine room of a tramp steamer, toil as a hod carrier, plasterer and dock worker; and, as a cop, study nights to get his law degree . . . Is it quite in the pattern for a corrupt man to do it the hard way" . . . (Yes, you may consult counsel before answering.)

"Don't you think that a half dozen known lawyers — confederates of notorious mobsters (the boys whose "relation to organized criminal gangs and individual mobsters pass all lines of reasonable client-counsel relationships" — can ease the way for these crooks more than 50 mayors, good, bad or indifferent? . . . "These lawyers have become integral parts of the conspiracy," you say . . . Okay, American Bar Association, whatcha waitin' for? . . . (And don't refuse to answer on the ground it might incriminate, degrade or embarrass you.)

"One more question, gentlemen of the Kefauver Committee—Do you sincerely believe the public indignation needed to get results can be looked for without a recall for the video audience of those top mobsters who were last seen on the screen defying the authority of the United States Senate, leering at your committee and saying 'Phooey' to threats of perjury indictments? . . . And what about those important witnesses who even to this day have ignored your subpoenas, refused to come in and never even been located? . . . Talk about law, mayors and governors seeming powerless when up against racketeers. Are you that helpless in a showdown? . . . (No, we won't accept a written statement on that point.) . . . Oh well, we shall see what we shall see . . . And we are betting (not by bookmaker) that unless the committee keeps slugging, and by video, we don't expect to see very much.

Rudolph Halley has retired as star digger-upper and counsel for the Kefauver Committee. This strikes us as a good deal like hearing that DiMaggio has been taken out of the Yankee lineup.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Wednesday, May 7, 1941.

The British House of Commons gave Winston Churchill an overwhelming vote of confidence after he had disclosed that nearly 500,000 imperial soldiers stood guard against the Axis in the Middle East and that Britain expected enough new American merchant ships to see her through 1942 in the battle of the Atlantic.

Joseph Stalin, replacing Vyscheslav M. Molotov as premier, took over open leadership of the Soviet Union, which he had guided from behind the scenes as a secretary-general of the Communist party.

Loss estimated at more than $40,000 resulted when fire of unknown origin destroyed a large stock barn and 180 head of cattle on a 1,200-acre farm one mile southwest of McGuffey. Victor Huston was farm manager.

Dr. A. O. Linscott of Windsor street, dentist, left to report for military duty at Camp Blanding, Stock, Fla.

G. Rex Kilbourn was elected president of the Wednesday Night Dance Club for the 1941-42 season at a dinner dance at the Masonic Temple. F. B. Jennings was elected vice president and John F. Smith secretary and treasurer.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Thursday, May 7, 1931.

In Boy's Week contests, Harold Coy, 12, pupil at North Main Street School, was declared by examining physicians to be Marion's healthiest boy and Gale Greenland won the city's marble championship.

Funeral services were set for Saturday for James H. Vaughan, 83, newspaper publisher and job printer in Marion since 1880, whose death occurred at his home Wednesday on North State street.

The first declaration of candidacy for any city office in 1931 was filed by W. C. Phillians in the race for the Republican mayoralty nomination.

Miss Martha Smallwood of Bellefontaine avenue was re-elected president of Gamma Mu Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority.

Twenty federal prohibition agents staged a raid in Marion, arrested 10 persons on charges of liquor violations and confiscated 50 gallons of assorted liquors.

Arrest Youth After Marion Auto Crash

Two Residents Of Galion Injured In Collision

A Marion youth was arrested following an accident in which two Galion residents were injured in Marion at 5 p.m. yesterday.

A car driven by the youth collided with a car driven by Warren C. Tucker, 30, of Galion.

Injured slightly in the accident were Divie Lee Stumpt and Gelena M. Tucker, both of Galion. They were taken to the Marion City Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries and released.

The youth was arrested and charged with obtaining a temporary permit by giving false information. Police said he is only 17 years of age, but gave the age of 18 when applying for his permit. He is to be arraigned in Juvenile Court later.

The cars involved in the collision were badly damaged.

Arrested After Accident

Clifford Ray Bowman, 23, of 782 Gill avenue was arrested yesterday afternon and charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Bowman was charged with striking the parked truck tractor owned by the Wendham Trucking Co. and driven by Claude Oldacre of 360 Bellefontaine avenue The tractor had been parked in front of the Oldacre home for the night.

The accident occurred some time after midnight Saturday and was reported at 9.30 a.m. yesterday. The truck had been struck with such force that the vehicle was knocked out of line, two of the rear tires were cut and flattened, the brakes were damaged.

Bowman tried to contact the owner of the truck Sunday in an attempt to pay for the damage, but police were already investigating the accident and he was arrested. Investigating officers said Bowman s 1939 Chevrolet was so badly damaged by the collision that they could not see how it ran as far as it did. They said Bowman drove the damaged vehicle home.

Fined $50. Costs

When arraigned in Municipal Court today Bowman pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs. His driving rights were also suspended for three years.

A Marion man was arrested Saturday and charged with destruction of property and intoxication.

He was Lester Denver Roberts, 32, of 365 North Prospect street.

Police said the Roberts car ran through a yard, smashed down a row of hedge and did $30 worth of damage to a front yard while attempting a turn at North State and Fairground streets at 6:30 p. m. Saturday.

Ernest Middleton of 773 East Mark street, a passenger in the car, his wife and four children, got out of the car after the accident and Roberts drove away. Police were called and they questioned Middleton and his wife. They told police who the driver of the car was. About an hour later Roberts was apprehended on Fairground street. Middleton also was arrested on an intoxication charge.

Roberts pleaded guilty to the charges in Municipal Court today and was fined $25 and costs. Middleton pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Police reported one other traffic accident in which a car driven by Warren M. Womack, 48, of 245 Jefferson street and a truck driven by Jon H. Shoup, 21, of 143½ Garden street collided on Jefferson street at 8:52 p. m. Saturday. Only minor damage was reported, police said.

Social Affairs

MR. AND MRS. JAMES MANZO of 176 West Columbia street are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Josephine, to Charles Caserta, son of Mrs. Bert Caserta of 531 North Prospect street and the late Mr. Caserta. The bride-elect and her fiance are graduates of St. Mary Parochial High School. Miss Manzo is a member of Zeta Theta Alumnae Chapter, Alpha Iota Sorority. The wedding will take place at 9:30 o'clock Saturday, June 30, in St. Mary Catholic Church.

MISS RUTH ANN HARKNESS, field director with the Marion Girl Scout Council, who is to be married June 10, was complimented with a surprise miscellaneous shower given Wednesday evening at the Girl Scout office here by members of the Girl Scout Leaders Club.

The honored guest found her gifts arranged under an umbrella in pink and white, her chosen wedding colors. Contests provided entertainment and the evening was spent socially.

An out-of-town guest was Mrs. C. S. Harkness of Bowling Green, mother of the honored guest.

Miss Harkness will be married in Bowling Green on June 10 to Allen Jay Jr. of Cleveland.

When the Y.M.B. Club met Thursday, Mrs. Anna Zimmerman was hostess in her home on North Seffner avenue. Spring flowers decorated the rooms. Business was followed by a social hour. Mrs. Mollie Harmon won guessing box.

Last dinner meeting of the season for Alpha Chapter, Gradale Sorority, was held Wednesday evening at the women's club rooms of the Y.M.C.A. Members voted $5 to the cancer drive. Centering the table was a spring bouquet and candles. Following dinner, entertainment included skits by new members, Mrs. Alice Moore, Mrs. Norma Shipley, Mrs. Bernice Shaw, and Mrs. Joan Decker. Reports were given by Mrs. Russell Simmons and Mrs. Howard Gilbert, delegates to the recent spring conference in Columbus. Induction of new members and installation of officers will be held May 16 at Hotel Harding.

A wedding of late summer will be that of Miss Marguerite L. Price and Virgil L. Cramer, whose engagement and approaching wedding are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Price of 365 Hane avenue. Mr. Cramer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora L. Cramer of 191 East Farming street. The wedding will take place in August. Open church will be observed for the ceremony which will be held in the First E. U. B. Church. Miss Price teaches the Hawaiian guitar in the Price Hawaiian Studio of Music and also is a secretary in the office of the Marion County Welfare Board. Her fiance is employed with the Bibler Burial Vault Co.

The engagement of Miss Barbara Ann Rech to Sgt. William C. Burns is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rech of 641 Henry street. Sgt. Burns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burns of Cheshire, Conn., and is stationed at Camp Pickett, Va. No date has been set for the wedding.

A dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Senff of 853 Wilson avenue, in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary, was given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Snyder of 775 Merkle avenue. Guests present with the honored guests and host and hostess were Miss Pat Senff, Miss Donna Senff, Miss Janis Snyder and Billy Lee Snyder Jr.

Mrs. Lowell Thomas was a guest when Mrs Clyde Porterfield entertained members of the Wit and Wisdom Club of Waldo Tuesday evening at her home north of Waldo. Serving as associate hostess was Mrs. Claire Gearhiser. Members gave their mother's maiden name in response to roll call. Mrs. Roscoe Rengert, in charge of the program, presented a paper, "The Life of the Dionne Quintuplets." Contest honors were won by Mrs. C. W. McKenzie, Mrs. C. N. Briggs, Mrs. William Bogart, Mrs. Harlos Moyer, Mrs. Harry Shultz and Mrs. Forest Smith, and a guessing box went to Mrs. Bogart Plans were made for the club to make a trip to Columbus June 5 to visit various points of interest.

Mrs Eileen Alexander of 346 Monroe street entertained the F. C. Club Thursday afternoon at her home. Secret sister gifts were exchanged. Mystery gift went to Mrs. Mona George and special prizes to Mrs Blanche Moore, Mrs. Edith Willmeth and Mrs. Freda Pickering

Games were played with honors going to Mrs. George, Mrs. Willmeth, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Ethel Hess, Mrs. Betty Strickland and Mrs. Lorena Hoptry. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Moore of 400 Lee street.

Mrs. Al Hacker was an assistant hostess when Child Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Simpson of 220 Johnson street Thursday evening. A special award was won by Mrs. Robert Morrison.

Mrs. Kenneth Roberts introduced the guest speaker, Miss Reta Van Meter who spoke on "Your Child in the School of Today."

The June meeting will be with Mrs. Mark Bowe of Mt. Vernon avenue.

A miscellaneous shower was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Long, north of Cardington, in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Long. They were married Easter Sunday at Westerville. Neighbors, friends and relatives were present.

Weddings

Mrs. Fran Overy of near Marion is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Lou Hafer, to Charles Young of the U. S. Navy. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lois Young of Canal Winchester.

The ceremony was read Tuesday evening, May 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fry of 294 Chicago avenue, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Rev. Melvin Truax, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, read the ceremony at 7:45 o'clock.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with red and white accessories. She was attended by Mrs. Fry. Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Ralph Kemp.

The bridegroom is stationed on the U. S. S. Cabot now at Philadelphia.

Garden Club Women To Work On Lilac Trail

ALL GARDEN CLUB members are invited to join the Town and Country Unit in working at the Lilac Trail on Vernon Heights boulevard Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. The hours are from 8:30 o'clock until noon each day. The unit members urge the women to vote before coming to the trail on Tuesday.

Members planning to help on one or both of the days are asked to bring their own garden gloves, snippers, cultivator and grass shears.

Mrs. Thomas E. Sonnanstine of South Vine street was hostess for a meeting of the Town and Country Unit Friday at her home. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Frank S. McNeal, Mrs. Francis B. Jennings, Mrs. Carl B. Leffler and Mrs. Jay F. Maish.

For the program hour a flower growing forum was presented by Mrs. L. D. Hamilton, Mrs. David W. Evans, Mrs. Frank R. Mann and Mrs Clare E. Williams. The general meeting was preceded by a board meeting at 12.30 o'clock.

Two Pre-School Clinics Scheduled Tomorrow

Two pre-school clinics are scheduled for tomorrow.

One will be held at St. Mary Parochial School with Dr. J. A. McNamara, Dr. Daniel Murphy, Dr. James S. Greetham and Dr. J. A. Wagner giving examinations.

A second will be held at Greenwood School with Dr. Floyd Yeager, Dr. D. W. Brickley Jr., and Dr. Ralph Burton. Both clinics will start promptly at 9 a.m. Parents of all children entering the first grade at these schools in the fall were urged by school officials to have their children on hand at that hour so examinations may proceed as scheduled. All examinations are free.

The clinics are sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Associations, the Marion Academy of Medicine, the Marion County Dental Society and the City Health Department.

Home Economists To Meet Here Wednesday

Members of the Marion Area Home Economists Club will meet here Wednesday night. Dinner will be at Ringer's Inn and later the group will go to the home of Henry A. True of 149 East Church street where they will hear a talk on "Early American Furnishings" by Mr. True. They also will view some of the early American furnishings in the home.

The meeting will mark the close of the season and business will include the annual election of officers.

Membership in the club is open to any graduate home economist. Four meetings are held during the year and programs are social and educational. The club is made up of home economists in Delaware, Crawford, Wyandot, Union and Marion Counties.

Marion Garden Center Notes

PERENNIAL PHLOX

Generally speaking, phlox blooms all summer, but it takes a little management.

For instance, there's a special group of phlox that blooms extra early, beating the main mass of varieties by several weeks. Miss Linyard is the most famous variety and you should grow her by all means. She's glistening white. Belle Pyramid is of the same type with clear pink blossoms.

How do you grow phlox? For one thing, water abundantly, especially before and during the blooming period. Soak the soil deep around the roots.

Phlox likes a rich diet, so feed generously.

Don't let seed ripen—for two good reasons.

First, snipping off old flower heads encourages more buds to develop. Second, if seeds ripen and fall, they'll grow and, eventually, flower. These flowers tend to be of undesirable colors.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

MIRACULOUS "Dacron" (or "Fiber V") has been introduced to the fashion world—as the most durable, dousable, dependable fabric on record.

The spectacular new material, developed by Du Pont and scheduled for ready-to-wear production in 1953, will make it possible for a man to go swimming in his Sunday suit, if he cares to, and never need a press.

With a dacron suit or dress, a man or woman will always look fresh. The fabric doesn't crease, shrink or stretch, never puckers or bags. Tests prove that a trim-looking dacron business suit had well creased slacks and an immaculate jacket — after being plunged twice in a swimming pool, and worn 67 days in a row.

Known mysteriously as a "polyester fiber," dacron will be ready within two years for manufacture into all forms of men's and women's ready-to-wear, from socks to hats, and into window curtains and other forms of interior decoration.

Two Injured In Accident

Car Runs Off Road South of Prospect

A motorist and his passenger, both of Niles, O., were slightly injured in an accident just south of Prospect on Route 257 at 5:30 a.m. Sunday when their car ran off the road and hit a power pole. Injured were Merle E. Garvin, 21, the driver, who suffered lacerations and bruised knees, and Victor Holbrook, 19, a passenger, who suffered a gashed left thigh. Their car was heavily damaged, the state patrol reported.

Both drivers escaped injuries when cars driven by Everett R. Albert, 19, of near Forest and John L. Kissling, 33, of Kenton collided at the corner of Main and Center streets in Marseilles at 8:45 p.m. Saturday. Albert was arrested by state patrolmen for failing to yield the right-of-way. Arraigned before Mayor James M. Woods of Marseilles, he pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs.

Cars Collide

At 10.30 a. m. yesterday on Route 42 four miles south of Cardington cars driven by Miss Wanda Jean Young, 17, of near Cardington and John Carl Mack, 49, of Valley City, O. collided while moving in the same direction. Moderate damage resulted.

In an almost identical accident at 12:10 yesterday cars of William Emerson Moore, 24, of near Richwood, and James W. Hughes, 25, of 364 Milburn avenue also sideswiped while going in the same direction, state patrolmen said. Moderate damage to both cars resulted from this crash, which occurred on Route 4 six miles south of Marion.

Three arrests were reported by the state patrol.

Arthur J. Sirignano, 22, of Bergenfield, N. J. was arrested at 5:15 p.m. yesterday on Route 30-N west of Bucyrus on a charge of speeding. Arraigned before Mayor Frank P. Sitler of Bucyrus he pleaded guilty and was fined $35 and costs.

Arrested For Speeding

Frank E. Rosanski, 21, of Berea was arrested at 10 p.m. Saturday on Route 30-N east of Bucyrus on a charge of speeding. He posted a $25 bond in mayor's court in Bucyrus for an appearance today.

Walter C. Scott, 18, of Sycamore was arrested at 8:10 p.m. Saturday on Route 30-N six miles west of Bucyrus on a charge of speeding. He posted a $25 bond in Mayor Sitler's court for an appearance today.

TWO FIRES REPORTED

Two minor fires were reported in Marion over the weekend. At 6 22 p.m. yesterday firemen from Central Fire Station were summoned to the home of C. E. Dye of 430 Windsor street. An electric motor in the kitchen refrigerator burned with damage estimated at $30. Firemen quickly extinguished it on arrival. Firemen were called to the rear of the south side Kresge store at 143 West Center street at 8 24 p.m. Saturday night to put out a pile of burning trash. Some unidentified person placed the trash at the rear door of the store and a passerby accidently set it ablaze with a discarded match or cigaret, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said. Firemen from Central Fire Station put out the blaze.

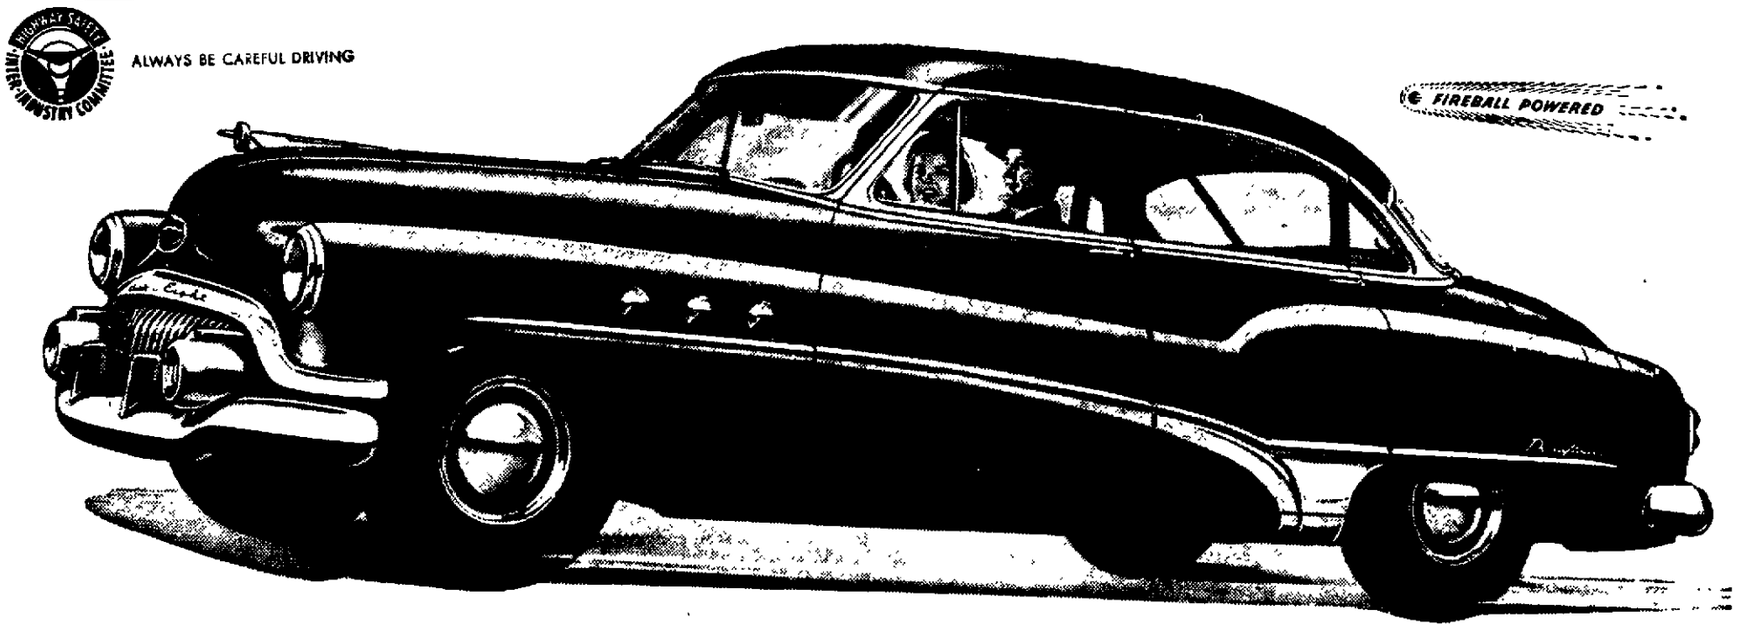
ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING



The difference goes more than Skin-Deep

NOBODY wonders what you're driving when you roll by in this one.

In the 1951 line-up, its brand-new front-end styling stands out with a beauty all its own.

You're the proud owner of a Buick—and the whole world knows it.

But you—at the wheel—enjoy a long list of differences that go far deeper than looks.

Handling is different—this car seems to steer itself on straightaway or curve—and swings lightly into parking spots inches shorter than you'd think you need.

Capping it all, there's the silken versatility of Dynaflow Drive,* that takes all the tenseness out of driving—responds to your slightest wish with a surging swoop of power.

No doubt about it, what you get in a Buick is far more than just a new car—it's a whole new experience in getting pleasurably from here to there.

So why not explore this difference? Come, take a Buick over and find out how very much satisfaction smart money can buy.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

"Smart Buy's Buick"

The ride is different—level and true. You sit the road with special assurance—because Buick's torque-tube drive keeps rear wheels firmly aligned—soft coil springs on all four wheels soak up the bumps and bobbles—honest weight keeps you on a steady keel.

The power is different—eager and sure. Buick's high-compression Fireball engine does wonders with fuel—and no matter what you demand in emergency, there's horsepower to spare.

No other car provides all this:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE*—saves strain on driver and car
FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepspears on most models
Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, StepOn parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.
